And, appropriately, there was a pledge of allegiance and an invocation—the former led by Harry Kraft, vo-tech school director, and the latter given by the Rev. Father Francis Taylor of Lancaster.

Approximately 50 people attended, including besides interested Mount Joy citizens, schoolmen, engineers, architects, contractors, Mayor Frank Walter and councilmen, county commissioners, Several made brief remarks, all expressing the theme that the community is making a progressive step to provide top-quality education for boys and girls who perhaps are not college bound.

They stressed the importance of equal opportunity to learn skills for working with hands.

In an area which was more weeds than hay, the ceremonial site was set up, but in the adjoining sections of the farm corn and tobacco grow and from a distance the happy shoutings of boys and girls at the swimming pool were wafted on the hot summer air.

Donald Kugle, Donegal District's representative on the vo-tech advisory council board, expressed the tenor of the day when he said that "today this field is wide open space, in a few months busy boys and girls will be hurrying from class to class in pursuit of education."

Dr. Thomas Mariner, retired member of the Donegal District board, formerly was head of the important advisory-policy council.

Immediately as the ceremony closed, and as the gathering watched, the waiting earth-eating behemoth machine moved in and took a powerful bite of top soil at the school site—and for all practical purposes, construction had begun.

The Mount Joy area kindergarten will be consolidated in the Washington Elementary School in the Florin Ward of Mt. Joy. This will enable the Seiler and Grandview buildings to house more full time elementary students. Since most of the kindergarten children are usually transported by car, and since the number of kindergarten teachers could be reduced from four to three by this consolidation, the change was authorized. The fact that kindergarten children do not need the cafeteria facilities and other auxiliary services, the small Washington building will suffice for them. This change has caused several transfers in building assignments for staff members in this area this year.

The Donegal School District is presently finalizing plans to begin construction for a new elementary school in the Marietta area. This building is planned for completion by the opening of the 1969-70 school year. This building will not only replace the present obsolete Marietta building but also allow room for expansion of school facilities by relieving congestion in other district buildings. The Lancaster County Vo-Tech Schools should be in operation for the 1970-71 school year which should be a worthwhile addition to the secondary school program. One of these three Lancaster County buildings is being constructed in the Mount Joy area.

will open and operate in all buildings at the same times as last year. School bus routes also have been set on the same schedules as last year. All cafeterias will begin operation on the first day of school with lunch prices remaining the same as last year.

The school faculty has a total of ten new persons as replacements for this school year.

They are as follows:

Mrs. Joanne (Bennett) Montgomery of Mount Joy to teach Grade 5 at Grandview; Mrs. Anna R. Fitzkee, Mount Joy R1 to teach Grade 2 at Seiler; Mrs. Vada Clements of Elizabethtown to teach Grade 2 at Marietta; Mr. James Prowell of Maytown to teach primary special education at Maytown. Mrs. Nina (Levy) Wittle of Mount Joy to serve as junior high school librarian; Mr. Michael Hudick of Lancaster to teach high school English and journalism; Miss Carol Merluzzo of Mt. Penn to teach high school home economics; Mrs. Linda Owens, Elizabethtown to serve as high school librarian; Miss Toni Rehner of Elizabethtown to teach high school English and Eugene Stank of Marietta to teach high school boys health and physical education. The high school special education position will be filled as soon as possible.

The Donegal School District will innovate a numbered day system this year in place of the week system. By following a numbered day system of one to five, in consecutive order, the daily class schedules usually marked for Mondays and Fridays, the most common vacation days, will not be omitted any more frequently than any other daily schedule. This should help with classes that have minor subjects such as art, music, home economics, shop, physical education and health on the same basis as all other classes.
