

Church Presents 'Pageant of Brides' Church News

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence E. Ulrich were guests of honor at a surprise program in honor of their 39th wedding anniversary, held Sunday night, Sept. 22, in Fellowship Hall of the St. Mark's United Methodist church.

Following a devotional period for which the James Endslo family had charge, the Ulrichs were presented with an anniversary cake and flowers. Their son and his family, Rev. and Mrs. Clarence D. Ulrich and three children, made a surprise appearance.

After Mrs. Eileen Martin sang "O Promise Me", a "Pageant of Brides" was presented.

Kathy Gephart modeled a dress worn by Esther Habecker Rohrer, the great-grandmother of Mrs. Robert Brubaker, who was married in 1836 and went on a honeymoon to Niagara Falls riding horseback - side saddle.

Linda Grissinger wore her great-grandmother's dress - worn by Mrs. Vesta Grissinger's mother in 1879. The "going-away" dress of Mrs. John Booth's mother of 1833 was modeled by Kim Beach. John Booth's mother's dress of 1896 was worn by Mrs. Carole Musser. Suzanne Newcomer wore the dress of Mrs. Robert Brubaker's mother of the year 1899.

The gown of Alice Marie Nissley's mother worn in 1903 was worn by Mrs. Sarah Martin and the going-away outfit was modeled by Sharon Stoner. On Easter Sunday, April 15, 1906, Mrs. Daniel Will's mother wore the dress Mrs. Catherine Brubaker was modeling. Mrs. Paul McMillan was married in a blue silk dress in 1925 which she had made herself and it was worn by her daughter, Mrs. Joyce Gibbons.

The 1930 wedding dress, hat, shoes, gloves and fur piece of Mrs. Herbert Tyndall were worn by Mrs. Almeda Berrier. Mrs. Erma Buchenauer modeled her own gown and shoes of 1937.

Sheryl Haines wore her mother's dress, hat, bag, and shoes of 1940. Her mother is Mrs. Karl Haines. Mrs. Bettie Mateer modeled her own wedding gown of 1947. Gail Kendig was the model of her mother's gown Mrs. Newton Kendig, of the year 1948. Mrs. Helen Leas wore her dress of 1950. In 1952 Mrs. Jane Beach was married in the gown she modeled.

On November 5, 1955, Mr.

Mrs. Charles Drace were narrator for the program which was arranged by Mrs. Arthur Sprecher and Mrs. Clinton Eby. Music throughout the evening was provided by Mrs. Carole Musser, Mrs. Eileen Martin, Jay Sherk, Donald Martin and Mrs. Eileen Nickolas. Accompanist was Gerald Miller.

Following the pageant, Rev. and Mrs. Ulrich were presented with gifts from the members of the congregation. Refreshments were served following the program.

Jr. High Sets Dress Code

Students from the seventh and eighth grades at the W. I. Beahm Junior high school modeled proper and improper apparel, according to the revised dress code, at an assembly Friday afternoon, Sept. 20.

Brenda Wolgemuth, an eighth grade Student Council representative, emceed the show.

Using the theme "Head-of-the-Class Wear", Mrs. Margaret Brown, home economics teacher at W. I. Beahm, described the junior high girls' outfits. Walter Price, geography teacher, explained the boys' attire.

Some of the new dress code requirements are: Boys must wear shirt tails inside slacks unless the shirt is a sweater-type with an elastic waist band, and belts must be worn with all slacks that require belts. Girls skirts must be no shorter than four inches above the knee when sitting, and no eye make-up may be used. Sandals and tightly pegged-pants are also prohibited.

Models for the show were: Jean Shearer, an eighth grader, GeorgAnne Jenkins, also an eighth grader, Melva Flowers, a seventh grader, Pat Morton and Brenda Wolgemuth, both eighth graders, and Crystal Ginder, a seventh grader.

Boy models were: Thomas Wivell, Richard Connelly, Bill Sutter, and Bill Yohe, all eighth graders, and Jim Mohr and Ken Musser, both of the seventh grade.

Fashions for the show were from Heineman's Men's store in Columbia and Kitty's Dress Shop in Mount Joy.

which also is a limited invitational parade.

Although plans have not been completed and are still uncertain, the Harrisburg parade is a march through the downtown section, sponsored by the Downtown Business association.

It will be a competitive parade, including a large number of high schools from the Southeastern part of Pennsylvania.

Plans for the Donegal Homecoming football game already are being formed, Leib said.

The football half-time show will be a student-written performance. John Presto already has completed the script and this week it's being adapted and rehearsals are set to begin.

One feature, tentatively being planned, for the Homecoming show, is an appearance of the junior high school band, which also will be playing at the Wednesday, Oct. 30, junior high school football game. Manheim Central will play here at 4:15 p. m., bringing a junior high school band.
