Register Guns Under New Law

Anyone having an unregistered machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, short barreled rifle or other gangster-type weapon, or a device such as a bomb, grenade or land mine, may register it with the Internal Revenue Service without penalty from Nov. 2 thru December 1.

The Gun Control Act of 1968, signed into law last week, establishes a thirty-day period for the registration of certain weapons and destructive devices. The registration requirement does not affect ordinary rifles, shotguns, pistols and revolvers.

The Gun Control Act provides that information or evidence submitted in registering a weapon during this period cannot be used against the registrant in any criminal proceeding arising out of a prior or concurrent violation of the law. However, this would not prevent prosecution for furnishing false information.

Firearms and devices covered by the registration requirements must be registered by filing Form 4467, in duplicate, with Director, Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D. C. 20-224.

Anyone with a weapon to register should write or phone an office of the IRS and obtain copies of Form 4467. Weapons and devices should not be taken to IRS office for the purpose of registration.

Former servicemen should register any automatic weapon, pistols with shoulder stocks, or other National Firearms Act weapon they might have as a souvenir of their military days.

Book Program

To celebrate National Book Week, the children in third grade at Seiler School presented a book program Monday afternoon. The children's parents and the second grades were invited.

Joe Coover welcomed the guests and announced the program which began with a choral reading by the class. The choral reading was entitled "Books." This was led by Sherri Good, Joi Shearer read a story called, "The Ride to Animal Town." Wenona Shand recited a poem, "Clouds." A poster parade followed. Some of the children showed posters they made about books they read. Some limericks were then presented by Jeana Angelini, Debra Mull, Allison Hawthorne, Sandra Haldeman, and Bradley Newcomer. A choral reading by the boys in the class followed. The story "The Golden Pears" was then dramatized. Characters in the play were the father, Joe Coover; the three sons, Mitchell Drace, Edward Kreider, and Mark Divet; the witch, Donna Kreider; the princess, Dawn Shireman; the king, Robert McComsey; and the servants, Aubrey Bowles and Scott Halstead. Rebecca Ruhl was the narrator. Mitchell Drace then recited a tongue twister. The program concluded with a puppet show called "The Story of White Satin". These characters were Marta Emenheiser, Allison Hawthorne, Jere Flowers, Michael Melhorn, Debra Mull, Sandra Haldeman and Wenona Shand. Dawn Shireman narrated this story.

THE WINTER care of horses and ponies is one that gets considerable neglect from many families. During the "off" riding season many horses are forgotten and allowed to stay in the stall too much of the time. Horses should get daily outside exercise. Ample amounts of top quality hay should be the base of the daily ration with some grain to be fed depending upon condition. Fresh water and salt should be available at all times. The animals should be checked for internal parasites by submitting a fecal sample to the local veterinarian. Body lice should be eliminated by treating before cold weather with lindane or rotenone. Don't forget "Old Dobbin" this winter.

Now the Navajos are investing in stocks. If they get rich, we hope they say, "How".

Thought of the week: Fatigue is the softest pillow, and hunger's the tastiest sauce!

Over The Back Fence

By Max Smith

THE MONTH of November means colder weather with the risk of sudden snow storms and freezing weather. I can readily recall the sudden snow storm of about ten years ago that dumped 15 inches of snow on the ground with strong winds the first weekend in November. I mentioned it at this time to suggest that many things need to be done before freezing weather. The cooling systems of all kinds of motors should either be drained or prepared with anti-freeze solutions. Water pipes should be buried or wrapped with heating cable. Many pipes are not buried deep enough (at least 30 inches) to be safe from normal cold weather in this area.

FALL is a good time to have your samples tested for fertilizer requirements for next year's crops. Soil samples are easy to take in the fall before the soil is frozen. Also, very often savings are available in cost of fertilizer. Many fertilizer dealers offer a discount on fertilizer if it is ordered during late fall and early winter. These savings can be considerable with the higher rates being applied. The soil samples are being promptly tested in the new Soil Testing Laboratory at Penn State university.

I'D LIKE to mention an interesting comparison between the cow and the sow as a meat producer. The sow starts reproducing when about a year old and by the time she is 18 months old she has produced enough pigs to represent about one ton of live pork. By contrast the beef cow does nothing to earn her keep until she is 2 years old when her first offspring represents about 1,000 pounds of live animal. In producing this amount of beef the cow and calf consume several tons of roughage and about 4 tons of grain. On the other hand, the sow consumes little roughage but she and her pigs will consume about the same 4 tons of grain but produce more than twice as much total pounds of meat in less time. This is one reason why the change in market hogs, from lard to meat-type, has been more rapid than the current slower change in meat-type beef cattle.

Consider Project

time to give proper consideration to the Cove or the 26-acre tract, at the present.

Kraft has indicated, however, that ideas for consideration include the lease or purchase idea and the Project 70 possibility. A 5-year lease was mentioned as a possibility.

In the meantime, the Mt. Joy Jaycees have been doing considerable work at the Cove to upgrade its appearance and to improve its facilities.

One pavilion was reroofed and repaired and the other, which was in bad condition, has been pulled down. Long range plans would include rebuilding the shelter.

Some indication of the resolution of the use, ownership or control of the historic area is wanted by the Jaycees to help them plan what improvements they will make.

Donegal District Music Program

Each school year, instrumental music clinics are held in each of the Donegal elementary schools for the purpose of starting new students who will take the places of the students who move up to junior high school.

At the beginning of the present school year there were 130 instrumental students in grades 5 and 6 remaining from last year. The year before this, only 103 students remained from the previous year.

This year the instrumental clinics were held in all of the elementary schools during the last week of September and on Oct. 1 a meeting was held at the junior high for the parents of students who wished to begin the study of a musical instrument. As a result of these meetings there are 219 students presently enrolled in the instrumental music program of the Donegal Elementary Schools.

In addition, there are nine classes of flutophones from which next year's new instrumental students will be selected.

H. Morrell Shields, director of instrumental music in the Donegal Elementary Schools reported that there will be more students starting on musical instruments during the school year.

You Don't Have To Be Alcoholic

You don't have to be an alcoholic to damage your health by drinking. You can do it by tipping a few martinis at lunch, downing a couple on the commuter special home after a trying day at the office, then having an aperitif before dinner, and ending the day with a night-cap.

A Health Insurance Institute report of a medical study shows that alcohol is poisonous to the liver and can, over a period of time, cause "lethal liver damage."

In the study, a group of volunteers drank what was considered a typical executive's intake: The equivalent of seven ounces of 86-proof whiskey for four days, then 11 ounces for two days, and finally 14 ounces for two to three days. This group, it was found, showed a five-to-13 fold increase in its liver fat level. Although fat level increases and cell damage were reversible after a few days or weeks of abstinence, one physician - researcher emphasized that "steady damage over a long period may be irreversible."

He warned that social drinkers may look and feel well, never get drunk, yet harm themselves seriously in the long run.
