MOUNT JOY, PENNA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1969

SEVEN CENTS

By R. A. R.

The political pot is beginning to boil in Mount Joy.

Democrats are especially active and the expectation is that the party will place Jack Matoney at the top of the local ticket as a candidate for mayor.

Probably the most interesting announcement comes from Harry Farmer, councilman from the Florin ward since that area has been part of Mount Joy borough.

He has said that he will not seek reelection as councilman but will be a candidate for tax collector.

His pledge is, if elected, that he will give a helping hand to the two fire companies of the community to the tune of $1,500 per year to each of the organizations.

Word is that Clark Berrier councilman from the West Ward wishes to retire from office and that Mayor Frank Walter wishes to do the same.

Rumor is that Henry Zerphrey would like to make a try for the mayor's office.

Work on the new Trinity Lutheran church, where four huge arches stand wrapped in plastic, has been recessed until weather improves.

Construction people point out despite the mild weather this season, the lack of snow has caused a considerable amount of difficulty for them.

The lack of snow protection has let frost creep deeper into the ground.

GO GO, DONEGAL, GO

Indian Tribe Scalps Camp Hill

Some corkscrews are for opening bottles. Some corkscrews come in a glass from the hand of a bartender.

But, everyone who was at the Hershey arena Friday night, Feb. 28, knows that a corkscrew is Bobby McCowin—a human corkscrew—who wiggled himself into a double twist and scored a winning field goal.

With just two seconds remaining in the game, the "never-say-quit" ball hawk twisted around under the north basket and looped the basketball through the hoop to break up a tie and give Donegal a 51-49 victory over Camp Hill.

The game, of course, was Donegal's opener in the District III Class B championship tournament.

It was Donegal's first game of the big event and it was a "win or out" game. It was THE one to win if anyone wanted to play more basketball this season.

And, it was obvious that there were five lads wearing Green who had more action in mind. They, and Coach Ken Keener, had not planned to store the basketball togs that night.

The Indians were brilliant all the way. Although they were outsized under the boards, they were great in other department - scoring, guarding and play making.

The play-by-play shows that never were the Indians down more than 4 points. Thus, they were never in deep trouble. They were within victory distance all

Weiser Stopped in Semi-final

There are no easy ones in the tournaments! Donegal took off Tuesday at Hershey like a jet plane bound for Cuba but before the night was over, it was a "fight for your life" struggle which reverted to Donegal's most famous characteristic — excitement.

The Tribe pulled the semi-final game of the Class B Section III out of the fire from Conrad-Weiser 52 - 50, but not before the fans had had a wonderful time.

Coach Ken Keener and his lads now move into the finale at Hershey Arena Thursday night, March 6, at 8:30 o'clock.

The opponent will be Susquehannock, winner of the second game Tuesday night over Daniel Boone by a score of 72 to 56.

One could say with a certain amount of correctness that Donegal never was in trouble, despite the fact the score was knotted up at 33 and again at 40—both times in the final period.

But, the problem was that despite the fact Donegal seemed to run foot-loose and fancy free through Conrad Weiser during most of the first half, the Blue & White Scouts just didn't seem to realize the fact and would not play dead.

After trailing 27 - 20 at the intermission, CW kept chipping away until as play was resumed after the three-quarter pause the count was knotted at 38.

The Scouts had picked up a momentum which became a threat and victory was a touch and go possibility for about eight minutes—Weiser fighting like jungle tigers, clawing at the seat of the pants of the Donegal Indians.

With 30 seconds remaining, big Jake Zerbe slapped in his 9th fielder of the evening and the count was only 49 - 48 for Donegal.

Almost instantly, the Tribe pulled one of its fantastic fast breaks, shook McCowin loose under the north bucket and he boosted the Indian total to 51. But the Scouts just would not give up. Mike George drove in for two more and time was ticking away with victory still tottering on the fence.

Steve Sload put the cork in the bottle when he sank one of two free tosses (eight seconds remaining) on Greg Werner's personal.

As the buzzer sounded, the noise of a boiler factory broke loose as Donegal fans erupted into joyous ecstasy.

Wants Stronger Fee Ordinance

A plea for a "more realistic" street opening ordinance was made Tuesday night, March 3, at the March meeting of the Borough Council, held in Friendship Fire Co. hall.

Street Committee Chairman Simeon Horton said that the borough needs to study its fees charged for breaking open borough streets by utilities for the installation of underground services.

He explained that Mount Joy charges only $5.00 for a license to cut open the streets.

Yet, he pointed out, that amount is not in keeping with the damage done to the street.

In other matters brought to the Council, Horton revealed that although snow removal this season has been at a minimum, damage to the streets by the winter weather has been very heavy.

Several streets which otherwise would not have been scheduled for repairs during the coming summer may now need attention, he said. He mentioned two in the Florin ward — Church and North Angle.

Little to Quit Boro Council

Mount Joy's East ward is losing one of its three councilmen, it was revealed this week.

Paul D. Little, Park Ave., has decided to resign his place on the council and plans within the next few days to submit a letter to that effect.

Little said this week that his resignation is purely personal and explained that the responsibilities of his work in employee relations with Armstrong Cork demands too much of his time and energy to permit him to give sufficient time to the council's duties.

He was re-elected to office two years ago for a term which will not expire until January 1, 1972.

The unexpired portion of his term will be filled by the council, perhaps at the April meeting.

World Prayer Day Is Set For Friday

World Day of Prayer Services will be held in the Cross Roads Brethren in Christ Church on Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. A. D. M. Dick, a retired missionary from India, will give the message.

The host church will provide the music and women from several of the participating churches will read the ritual.

You are invited to attend this service.

On Dean's List

Kathleen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Route 2, Mount Joy, is one of nearly 3,500 undergraduates at Penn State U. to qualify for the Dean's List during the fall term.

A Donegal high school graduate, she attends PSU at State College.

An average of 3.50 is necessary to qualify. She scored 3.54.

Miss Alice Kleiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Kleiner, West Main street, has been named to the Dean's List at Hood College in Frederick, Md.

At Hood, a liberal arts college for women, special recognition is awarded to students with high academic averages each semester. Seniors must achieve a 3.3 average for inclusion in the Dean's List; Juniors a 3.2; sophomores a 3.1; and freshmen a 3.0.

Miss Kleiner is a freshman at Hood, majoring in early childhood education. She is a graduate of Donegal H. S.

'Of This and That'

by the editor's wife

With the cheers celebrating a 52-50 Donegal basketball victory at the Hershey arena still ringing in our ears, it is difficult to write a column!

It was another "exciting" evening, with the outcome of the game with Conrad Weiser in doubt until the final seconds of play!

But Donegal's scrappy Indians won! We say "Congratulations!" on Tuesday night's victory, and "Good luck!" in the encounter Thursday night with Susquehannock.

We also want to say 'Thank You' and 'All good wishes' to another group of high school students, who came to Mount Joy over the weekend and played a wonderful concert Saturday night in the Donegal high school auditorium.

We mean the Chambersburg Area Senior high school band, numbering some 65 musicians, who came here at the invitation of Glen Leib, Donegal's band director, and visited from Saturday morning until Sunday afternoon in homes in the area.

It was a peppy, high-spirited group, but also a well-mannered, well behaved one, and the Donegal hosts and hostesses had only complimentary things to say about their young guests!

An Editorial

"In loco parentis" is a Latin phrase which is seen and heard more and more these days. It means, "in place of parents."

The idea expressed is that universities and colleges assume a certain responsibility of parenthood in guiding, directing, educating—and disciplining—of the boys and girls who are enrolled. Thereby, they replace, for a time in a certain way the young people's own parents.

Implied is a responsibility for housing, feeding, health, morals, education and all the other aspects of the total individual.

Such an attitude is much akin to the feeling of "alma mater", which is the tender and proud connection between student and school. Alma mater literally means 'foster mother.'
