graduate, class of 1967, Shoemaker had been in Vietnam since Aug. 15, 1968.

According to a telegram received by his parents, Shoemaker died from a blast injury from a hostile exploding device during an enemy attack on an observation post.

The action occurred approximately 14 miles southwest of DaNang in Quang Nam Province. The young Marine died Feb. 25.

Shoemaker joined the Marines in December, 1967. He had worked parttime at Greiner's Service Station, Mount Joy, for the last two years of high school, and fulltime there until leaving for basic training at Parris Island, S.C.

Following basic, where he was named the outstanding recruit of his platoon, Shoemaker went to Camp LeJeune, N. C., where he received advanced infantry training.

Besides his parents, Shoemaker is survived by a brother, Paul S., Elizabethtown R3; two sisters, Joanne, wife of Martin H. Hynicker, Elizabethtown; Miss Irene S. Shoemaker, at home; and a ma-

Cameron Ralston To Be Speaker At CofC Banquet

Cameron Ralston of Harrisburg, one of the best known and provocative speakers available, will be the principal speaker for the annual Mount Joy Chamber of Commerce dinner, to be held Tuesday night, March 11, at Hostetters.

A native of Paisley, Scotland and now a native of this country, Ralston will speak on "The American Way."

He came to this country in 1914, served on the Mexican border with the Virginia cavalry and in France with the 29th division in World War I. For several years he was a member of the faculty at Washington & Jefferson college.

He formerly was director of Public Forums, United States Department of Interior, Office of Education and is a recognized authority on the development, technique and effect of such forums.

Ralston is very much in demand on the lecture platform and his visit to Mount Joy is one of several he has made in the past several years.

While in Mount Joy, he will make an address at Donegal high school, talking to the student body on "The Five Flags of Democracy."

The Chamber of Commerce dinner and annual meeting will be in charge of Robert Kline, president.

Ralston will be introduced by Henry G. Carpenter.

The public is invited to attend the meeting, which will keep the business at a minimum. Tickets are available from Joseph Shaeffer, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

To Dedicate Boro Building Memorial Day

Mount Joy's new Borough Building on east Main street is to be dedicated during the annual community Memorial Day observance!

To hold a dedication and probably an open house, was a decision made Monday night, March 3, as Borough Council held its monthly meeting in Friendship Fire hall.

Work on the new building is progressing satisfactorily, Councilman George Groff, building committee chairman, reported. He and Councilman James Spangler, chairman of the public relations committee, were given instructions to work out the details of the dedication.

In the meantime, council Monday night gave approval to move ahead with installing partitions in the office section of the building at a cost of approximately $1300. The eight feet high walls will be of vinyl-covered sheet rock, dividing the area into needed spaces for various department, including the police.

It was revealed that the Cub Scout Pack 136 of Mt. Joy met on Thursday, Feb. 27, at the Mount Joy Legion Home for its annual Blue & Gold banquet. More than 155 people attended the program and decorations prepared by the Cub Scouts.

Rotarians Hear Decorators Talk

Al Newlin and John Summy, proprietors of the recently opened firm of Newlin Summy, interior decorators, were the speakers Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Mount Joy Rotary club, held at Hostetters.

As owners of the new business on West Main street, the two men talked to an all male audience on a traditionally female subject and convinced their audience that the field is of universal appeal.

With exhibits of draperies, rug samples, accessories, wall decorations etc, they demonstrated how some of the ideas of color, texture and pattern are combined for pleasing effect.

People are often afraid of an interior decorator, they said, because they are afraid that the consultant will want to tear out and throw out. In practice, decorating is often done around the pieces and things people already own and cherish as antiques and because they have sentimental value.

Sometimes interior decorating is helping people simply to rearrange the things they already have, they revealed.

The decorator can start anywhere and with whatever is available. However, in a new home the usual steps are 1. - carpet, walls and drapes. 2. - upholstered pieces, and 3. - lamps, tables and final accessories.

In decorating, especially, they cautioned, "Haste makes waste."

The speakers were introduced by Charles O. Groff.

Knights Bow Out Of Tourney

Hempfield's Black Knights, who rode a white horse into the Class A Section III basketball tournament, were pulled down Monday night at Hershey by an overpowering William Penn quintet.

Lancaster county's only entry in the Class A event, took it on the chin, 77 to 53.

Defeat was attributed to the "superior height" of the Harrisburg school.

Bob Smith led the Knights with 15 points, Young and Risser had 10 each.

2350 pupils, gave evidence of outstanding ability and excellent training, under the baton of their director, Lynn Lerew.

The concert was in six parts. A small Chambersburg stage band played first, followed by the Chambersburg concert band. The Donegal German band then made its appearance, after which the Chambersburg German band performed, and then both German bands together.

The final numbers were played by the combined Chambersburg and Donegal bands.

It was an evening of beautiful, stirring music—it was an enjoyable and interesting week end. Our two guests, a senior and a sophomore, were pleasant, handsome, talented young men whom it was a pleasure to have in our home.

Thank you, Chambersburg Area Senior High School band! Come again some time!
