Mr. and Mrs. Jay Barnhart flew from Philadelphia on June 27 to attend the Lions International Convention held in Tokyo, Japan. Enroute to Japan they stopped in Hawaii and toured the island of Oahu for three days. Unfortunately they hit Japan during the rainy season and were unable to see some of the sights because of heavy fog and cloudiness.

While in Tokyo they toured the Olympic Stadium, viewed the Imperial Palace, went up in the Tokyo Tower, which is the highest tower in the world, and did some shopping. After four days of attending the convention, they went by bus to Atami and from there to Osaka by the "bullet train" at speeds up to 130 MPH. At Kyoto, Japan, they toured tea plantations and rice paddies. Traveling on, a stop at Toba and a boat trip to Pearl Island, owned by Mikimoto, a famous pearl dealer. A highlight of the trip was staying at the fabulous Fujiya Hotel at Miyashita Hakone, Japan. After being gone for 16 days and losing several hours by crossing the International Date Line, they are now at home and resting.

During the trip Mr. Barnhart was able to take many interesting slides. This week Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart are hosting a 15-year old French exchange student in their home, Jean (pronounced John) Reynier. He is here in Mount Joy sponsored by the Lions Club for six weeks. John does not speak English so communication is difficult. The Barnharts were advised not to speak French, but to guide him in learning their language.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoover, children Cindy, Steve and Scott enjoyed a vacation in Wildwood, New Jersey, last week. The weather was perfect for swimming and sunning.

Also at the ocean were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Germer and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffmaster and children Jere and Joni and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hipple. They spent two weeks at Ship Bottom, New Jersey on Long Beach Island. While there Mr. and Mrs. Germer's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Piersol and Sue Ann visited them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Blantz and son Bill spent a day recently in Ocean City, Maryland. They enjoyed the activities at the tourist attraction "Frontier Town," which is a replica of an old western town, complete with a cowboy fight, train ride thru the wild west, rodeo, panning for gold and a show in the local saloon, serving cokes, of course.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Baker and family, Regina, Karen, Steve, Bonnie and Scott were in the mountains over the week end in Lycoming County at the Steam Valley Hunting Club. Although it rained just about the entire time, they were able to sneak in a picnic between showers.

Just returned recently from a week's vacation in the mountains are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bair and sons Tim and Tom, Mrs. Bair's sister and family Mr. and Mrs. John Krick and sons Michael and David, their mother, Mrs. Anna H. Snader from Ephrata and aunt, Mrs. E. L. Frizell from Abington, Pa. They stayed at McBeth Cabins at Cook State Park, in Cook Forest located in Jefferson County. They enjoyed horse back riding, canoeing, hiking and bicycling.

Four women recently completed a five week trip thru 17 states and traveled 7,035 miles pulling a 19-ft. travel trailer. They were: Mrs. Frank Germer, granddaughter Robin Germer, sister-in-law, Mrs. Jean Holsinger, of Annandale, Va., and sister Mrs. Betty Shank of Manheim. At Cody, Wyoming they attended a reunion of the 351st Aero Sqdn. of W. War I. Mrs. Germer's late husband was a member of this squadron. A highlight of the trip was visiting Mike Germer at the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colorado, where he is a Cadet, beginning his senior year. Other places visited include such interesting sights as the Bad Lands of South Dakota, Mt. Rushmore, also in S. Dakota, Yellowstone National Park and Jackson Hole, Wyoming, where the snow capped mountains of Grand Tetons are located, the Corn Palace, where on display are enormous murals of art work done entirely by various sizes, colors and grains of corn in Mitchell, S. D., Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado where they saw the ruins of Indian cliff dwellings, the Petrified Forest and the Painted Desert in Arizona, and the fabulous 636 foot high Arch in St. Louis, often called the Gateway to the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Straub and children Marjorie, Kristin and Fred spent last week playing miniature golf, swimming in the ocean and walking the boardwalk at Ocean City, N. J. They were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mlodoch.

Just returned from a two week vacation at Sandy Cove, Ocean View, Del. are Mr. and Mrs. James Shue and children Sue, Sandy, Jimmy and Mary Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonn Spickler and son Mark, of Albuquerque, New Mexico are guests for several weeks of Mrs. Spickler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Weir and family, Marietta Avenue.

Art Baughman, a senior at Donegal high school, attended a workshop at the Indiana University of Penna. He attended two sessions, one for precision drill and the other for drum major, each running three days with 3 meetings a day. On returning he joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baughman at Sandy Cove, Ocean View, Del., where they were vacationing, where they're vacationing. Also the the camp were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shelly and children Doug and Billy. Mrs. Shelly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baughman. Visiting them for three days at Sandy Cove were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baughman, Jr., returning from their vacation at Wildwood, N. J. and coming across the Cape May Ferry. A camping neighbor at Sandy Cove, of the teaching profession, turned out to be an alumni of Indiana University of Penna., small world!

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Linton Jr. and son David, and Mrs. Roy Wagner and daughters Teresa and Denise vacationed last week at Stone Harbor, N. J.

Donegal District Names Five New Teachers

Five teachers were hired, five teachers resigned and seven teachers are needed to fill the classrooms of Donegal School district.

That is how the School Board saw the situation on Thursday night, July 17, as they held their July meeting in the D.H.S. library.

Charles, Millersville, who will teach high school girls' physical education.

Unless there are other resignations, positions yet to be filled include:

In other business Thursday night, the Board:

—Bought 17 business machines at a cost of $5,723.

—Awarded a contract to Paul H. Martin of Elizabethtown to macadam the driveway through the Washington school lot at a cost of $285.

—Was informed that Emerson Stehman, high school biology teacher who has been on a leave of absence, expects to return to the high school science staff in the fall.

—Was told by the architect that the new Riverview elementary school construction program is behind schedule. Although the project is about 55 percent completed, there have been delays. Delivery of the heating units because of a strike, is not expected until after September 1. Problems of connection with the Marietta sewer do not look as serious as previously. It now appears, apparently, that sewer connections will be ready before the building is ready for use.

—Noted the resignation of Mrs. Virginia Clapsaddle as secretary in the district office of the assistant supervising principals. Mrs. Jene Grubb, who has been in the office of the high school will take her position.

—Was told that the Donegal band again has applied for consideration to participate in the Gimbels Annual Thanksgiving Parade, Thursday, Nov. 27.
