BY NANCY NEWCOMER

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berrier and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bilyk from Spring City, Pa. enjoyed a one-week holiday trip to New Orleans to see the Sugar Bowl football game and parade. They also toured the city and spent time in the French Quarter. The temperatures ranged from the 70's to the 40's. An interesting side light of the trip for the Berriers was eating just a few tables away from Archie Manning, a quarterback for the Mississippi team at the Galatris restaurant in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hawthorne and Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Kometa and Kimberly are home after attending the wedding of Beth Ann Hershey and Jeffrey Hawthorne at Aiken, S. C. on December 28. Mr. and Mrs. Hawthorne were hosts at a post rehearsal dinner Saturday night for the wedding party, guests and all out of town guests at Augusta, Ga. On Sunday the bridesmaids entertained all out of town guests at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Howard Sampson. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hawthorne will reside at Columbia, S. C.

Girl Scout troop #23 headed by Mrs. Kenneth Good and Mrs. Merle Wilkinson used their creative talent to good advantage by making 16 colorful stuffed dogs from acrylic pile for the Messiah Children's Home for Christmas. The materials were donated by Donegal Industries. The girls working on this project were: Debbie Bender, Kim Brown, Francis Lilly, Michele Fisher, Eileen Jones, Bonnie Hean, Debbie Mumper, Sherri Good, Erin Ney, Cathy Jones, Linda Valle, Sharon Pennell, Teresa Williams, Kim Darkes, Kim Wilkinson and Michele Mowrer.

Enjoying sunshine and swimming in Florida over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kreider and children Beverly, Edward, Deborah and Clifford. They spent Christmas with Mrs. Kreider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Craun in St. Petersburg. From there, they toured the Donald Duck citrus fruit packaging company, saw Cyprus Gardens, Bush Gardens, Spook Hill near Lake Wales and the Singing Bok Tower. Fishing proved lucrative by producing seven yellowtail fish. En route home they stopped in Washington D. C. and attended the "Pageant of Peace", which is a special Christmas presentation done adjacent to the White House lawn right near the huge Christmas tree.

turned to West Point Academy Sunday after spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rolfs and sister, Nancy. This was the first time he had been home since entering the Academy in July, and made an extra special event for the Rolfs.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Brooks and children Allen, Susan and Brian escaped the snow for nine days at Titusville, Florida, near Cape Kennedy at the home of Mrs. Brooks' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith and children Melody and Charles. It was the first time the two families had been together for seven years. They enjoyed beautiful weather that averaged 75 to 80 degrees, which permitted swimming and fishing. While in Florida they toured Cape Kennedy, visited Marine Land, Sunken Treasure Museum in Coco Beach and walked in the beautiful old city of St. Augustine, which is the first settlement on the eastern coast. As typical tourists, they brought home all the citrus fruit possible.

Mrs. Donald Cargas, Jr. is presently staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Walter, Jr. Mr. Cargas left Monday evening from Kennedy Airport for Iceland where he will be stationed with the Navy as an Ensign. He graduated from Cornell last June with his commission and was then stationed in Athens, Georgia for six months of training before being sent to Iceland. Mrs. Cargas will join her husband after necessary arrangements are made. They will be in Iceland for two years.

Mrs. Frank B. Walters has been a patient at the St. Joseph's hospital under intensive care since last Thursday evening.

Girl Scout Troop #35 did not have to go to Florida for a swim; they spent Friday afternoon swimming at the YMCA toward their Water Fun badge. Those girls participating were: Tammy Duke, Donna Jo Germer, Wendy Newcomer, Wenona Shaud, Joi Shearer, Debbie Sarbaugh, Dawn Shireman, Diane Yingst, Donna Kreider, Norma Heisey, Kimberly Marshall, Deborah Mumma, Mari Lynn Young, Linda Sherk, Lou Ann Witmer, Ann Hollister, Kathleen Brennehan, Lori Lucabaugh, Debbie Gainer, Donna Sherk and Missy Gates. Also as senior life savers were: Beth Gibble and Deborah Kulp. The five mothers who transported the girls were: Mrs. James Sarbaugh, Mrs. Richard Kreider, Mrs. Robert Sherk, Mrs. Charles Lucabaugh and Mrs. Elwood Young. Mrs. Young is the leader of the troop and Mrs. Arthur Shaud is the assistant leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Robinson spent six days over the holidays skiing near Bridgeton, Maine on Mount Pleasant. They stayed at Edge-Set Lodge on Sabago Lake with three other couples. It was interesting to note that here in Pennsylvania we had much more snow than eight hundred miles north in the mountainous ski country. There was just enough snow to ski and had not snowed in many weeks. They particularly enjoyed the many chalets and the beautiful scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Nolt and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nolt returned Saturday from an exciting three-week experience in Tanzania, East Africa. They visited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rensberger, who are volunteer teachers at Marangu Teachers college in Tanzania. In Africa they traveled as far south as Johannesburg and Victoria Falls. En route to Africa they toured Rome and returned home by the way of Cairo, Egypt. While in the country of Simolia, Mr. and Mrs. Jaek Nolt visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Good, from Elizabethtown, who are missionaries under the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions.

Let us say frankly, that only another publisher can fully appreciate the landmark birthday which 100 years represents in the weekly newspaper publishing business.

Again, congratulations!

The details of how Lucy Eshelman was married are just too many to relate. The way things worked out because of the Christmas Day snow storm was almost too complicated to recall.

But, there are a lot of people who will never forget the day.

The wedding was to have been on Saturday, Dec. 27. But, it was impossible for the bridal party to get from the bride's home to the Florin Church of the Brethren. They made it to the Bill Longenecker home, and there they were stuck.

Gary received the S.Z. Maxwell Memorial Award as "line-man of the year," and Scott received the MYAA Award for "most valuable back of the year".

Next day things were almost as bad.

But, two young men on snowmobiles came to the rescue and were able to get the party to the church. Two by two the snowmen brought the people in. The father of the bride, James Eshelman, arrived on a tractor.

One never knows what an item in the paper will cause to happen.

Our paragraph last week about the eye glasses which have accumulated at the Bulletin generated a score of different telephone calls — all with wonderful suggestions about what disposition should be made of the lost items which have been turned in at this office.

There are, apparently, several organizations which can make use of the frames and can find new and needy owners.

So, after we keep the glasses a little longer to see if someone turns up to claim his property, we will make sure one of the organizations get the glasses.

LEISURE CLUB

The Mount Joy Leisure Club will hold its next regular meeting at the Mount Joy Sports Farm on Monday January 12 at 1 o'clock.

DECLARE DIVIDEND

At its meeting on January 6 the board of directors of the Lancaster County Farmers National bank declared a regular quarterly dividend of 45c per share, to be paid Feb. 2 to shareholders of record January 6, 1970.

Points to Help Farm Butchering

Farm butchering is a festive occasion.

Friends and neighbors often join in the day-long work and revelry. For colonial farmers it was the season's final food-gathering activity. Today, butchering of live stock is still an important source of the farm family's winter meat supply.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on dressing and curing meat on farms, there are several criteria to be followed.

Select only healthy animals for slaughter.

Choose animals gaining weight rapidly avoid those in poor condition.

Use young animals for slaughter: cattle two years of age, hogs six to eight months and sheep at six to twelve months.

Give animals all the water they want but keep them quiet and without feed for 24 hours previous to slaughter.

Have good equipment and sharp knives.

We call the two secretaries who wear all the bracelets and necklaces they are able to carry the Jingle Belles.

That barking dogs never bite is a truism dogs have never quite accepted.
