The Neil Westerman family, Donegal Heights, is alive with activity this week following the addition of twin boys born last Tuesday, May 12. The family also includes two little girls, Georgianne, 7 years and Amy, 4 years. Uniquely, all six of their birthdays fall in this month of May, with Amy and the twins falling on the same day. Connie has seen duty as a visiting nurse, a housekeeper, farm hand, babysitter, chauffeur and teacher. She lives in a "Center" with several other young people and a counselor, and goes out each day to "lend a hand" to the mountain people.

Connie will conclude her service in October.

What electric baseboard heat is and what it can do for you

Meet the "independent" one . . . the electric baseboard heating unit. Each slim baseboard unit is actually a heating system in itself, so you can have individual temperature control in every room. It even lets you economize by turning down the heat in rooms not often used.

You eliminate the central furnace . . . pipes . . . ducts . . . chimneys and flues . . . plus fuel delivery and storage problems. And electric heat is clean, quiet and carefree besides!

So, why not plan to convert your home to the comfort and convenience of electric heat today? Select baseboard units or one of the four other types of electric heat . . . hot water, warm air, ceiling cable, or heat pump.

For more information and a free estimate of operating costs call PP&L or your PP&L Recommended Electric Home Heating Dealer, listed in the Yellow Pages under "Heating."
