4-HERS IN SMALL TOWNS
 According to recent statistics compiled by the Cooperative Extension Service, towns of less than 10,000 claim about 42 percent of the national 4-H enrollment.

The only time it's too late to make a mistake is when you're no longer capable of learning from it.

Civil disorders and riots in 1968 hit 361 cities in 37 states and the District of Columbia, according to the Insurance Information Institute. The upheavals, chiefly occurring in early April following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., caused more than $79 million in insured losses. The hardest-hit city was Washington, D. THE Prayer of the Week

The Prayer this week is by William Ellery Channing "Oh God, animate us to cheerfulness. May we have a joyful sense of our blessings, learn to look on the bright circumstances of our lot, and maintain a perpetual contentedness under Thy allotments. Fortify our minds against disappointment and calamity. Preserve us from despondency, from yielding to dejection. Teach us that no evil is intolerable but a guilty conscience, and that nothing can hurt us, if, with true loyalty of affection, we keep Thy commandments and take refuge in Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

The Worry Clinic

by George W. Crane

Prof. Cooke's data can easily be expanded. In high school and Sunday School, compare the hippies with the hippies with the self-reliant teenagers. People who are self-reliant teenagers. People who are too lazy or low in I. Q. to win legitimate fame, often try to get notoriety by doing shocking things. They are emotionally immature, so should be wearing diapers with their beads!

CASE J-561: William P. Cooke is a former Ohio teacher and school board member.

"Dr. Crane," he told me, "I interviewed 93 state finalists at our Ohio Academy of Science Exhibition.

"And the results certainly offer some favorable teen-age publicity.

"These finalists came from all the 4 years of senior high, as follows: Freshmen, 19; Sophomores, 20; Juniors, 27; Seniors, 27."

Then Prof. Cooke gave the following data, which will show that the hippies are merely a minority group of grandstanders, hoping to usurp newspaper headlines and television exposure.

Of these young high school scientists, 95% had never smoked and 91% had never drunk alcoholic beverages!

Which shows that the television ads must not influence greatly the "thinking" teenagers, though they stampered the "sheep," for a recent medical report stated that 4,500 new teen-agers get hooked every day on the cigaret habit, (1,600,000 yearly)!

And here are some more data about these 93 elite teen-agers:

	Yes	No	Seldom
Attend church	81	5	7
Smoke	0	89	4
Use alcohol	1	85	7
Have dates	22	29	42

Of the 29 who had never had a date, 3 were seniors; 6 were juniors; 9 were sophomores and 11 were freshmen.

Almost half the entire group had use of a car, and only 30 had use of a car fairly regularly.

These data indicate the current behavior patterns of the cream of the crop of Ohio high schoolers who are tops in science.

It might make interesting survey assignment for a class in high school psychology to contrast the dropouts with the honor students on such items as how many carried newspaper routes to earn their own money.

Also, how many had been active members in Boy or Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs, Camp Fire Girls, the Band, Glee Club and on athletic teams.

Likewise, compare the hippies and other "show off" types with those same stable groups of teen-agers.

In my rather wide experience with delinquents, dropouts and hippies I find that you can prepare a psychological "profile" of such teenage failures, as follows:

- (1) They more likely come from broken homes.
- (2) They've been given a cash allowance instead of having to earn their own
