

Electricity can be a hazard anywhere and most homeowners manage to double and triple the hazard. Here are some points to minimize the danger:

- Don't overload outlets.
- Don't run cords under rugs. The wear and tear on the insulation will eventually break through it, creating a fire hazard.
- Don't run cords too close to radiators (or over them, under them, on them). Again, there's a danger of damaging the insulation.

Life With The Ripples

LANDISVILLE - SALUNGA NEWS

The August meeting of the East Hempfield Twp. supervisors was held Saturday, August 1 at 8:30 a.m. at the township offices, 901 Rohrerstown Rd., instead of the regularly scheduled meeting date of August 5.

Hempfield School Board accepted three resignations and hired two new teachers at its recent meeting.

The new employees are Michael Suvakas, who will teach driver education and Mrs. Claude Krumenacker will replace Mrs. Doris Rohrbach who is on a maternity leave of absence.

Resignations were received from Robert Wenrich, assistant high school principal, John H. G. Coles, driver Ed. teacher and Mrs. Elaine Jackson who taught first grade at Farmdale elementary.

Ronald Crawford, 45 Stanley Avenue, Landisville, has been named supervising industrial engineer in the rotogravure and consumer products production department of the Armstrong Cork Company's Floor Plant. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh who joined Armstrong in 1965.

Christoph Clauser, Freiburg Baden-Wuttemberg, Germany will attend Hempfield H. S. for his senior year under the American Field Service International Scholarship program.

Arriving in the United States August 6, the 16-year-old lad will live with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder, 320 North Cornell Avenue, during his stay at Hempfield. The son of Dr. and Mrs. Gunter Clauser, he attended the Kepler Gymnasium at Freiburg for his secondary education program.

His academic interest lies in math, physics, English and French languages, whereas his sports activities include judo, skiing, table tennis, basketball and handball. The A.F.S. student's hobbies include piano, reading modern literature and fishing.

Two Lancaster County women were honored during the 79th annual commencement of the Reading Hospital of Nursing held July 24 at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Reading Senior high school.

Miss Joyce Elaine Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carpenter Manheim R1, received the Julia Pepper Rentschler award given annually to senior student for excellence in the care of anesthetized patients. A '67 graduate of Hempfield high school in town which he considers in need of immediate action. One he mentioned, is along the north bank of the railroad right of way opposite the 100 block of east Main and the other is in the area immediately west of the swimming pool.

Miss Carpenter received a cash award of $373.35 for her outstanding work. The other woman who was honored was from Gap.

The employees of Bender's Store and Restaurant, Salunga, were entertained by a picnic and pool party on Wednesday evening, July 28.

Of sewage, he was emphatic that every place in Mount Joy should be connected with the sewer system. The borough health department, he said, needs reorganization to accomplish its purpose in the community and he believes that the borough should take steps to make possible condemnation of housing which does not meet standards.

He suggested cutting weeds to attack the rat problem. Mayor Henry Zerphey said that steps are being taken. Council read a list of about a dozen properties which still are not connected to sewage. 'Final' notices, however, have been issued by the borough's attorney, it was reported. Health Department President Jay Eicherly and Dr. Kendig are to be invited to council for its next meeting to talk about reorganization.

Council, on a bid of $1,105 sold the trailer which has been used as a radio-telephone emergency center. It is parked along Apple Tree alley.

Council will hold its September meeting on Sept. 8, instead of the 7th, which is Labor Day.

A special hearing date for a zoning variance request at Jacobs and Apple Tree alley was set for August 24.

Damage amounting to $540 was done to five parking meters recently when a truck ran amuck on Main street, damaged the Joy theatre and the home of George Reigle.

Council gave restricted approval of a development proposal which includes six lots on the south side of Wood St. and located a block west of Market avenue.

A citizen from the Florin Ward appeared before council and requested that Pink alley be paved.

THE TOBACCO harvest is developing rapidly and many of the early plantings are ready for topping. The practice of using one of the chemicals to control suckers is getting quite common and growers that are planning to use this labor-saving practice are urged to keep several things in mind. In the first place the majority of the plants in the field (75%) should be in blossom before the field is topped; if chemicals are used on immature plants the quality of the leaf will be lowered. Secondly, the suggestions of the manufacturer should be followed in relation to the amount to apply per acre and the time to apply. All of these practices are needed if the suckers are to be controlled without hurting the quality of the crop.

THE MONTH of August is a good time to get started to renovate an old pasture or prepare ground for a new pasture seeding. Mixtures sowed during late August or early September have given the best results in this part of the state. This same timing holds true for new lawns or turf areas that are to be seeded. The ground should be tested for lime and fertilizer needs and any applications worked into the topsoil. In many cases old permanent pastures have gotten too weedy or include unwanted grasses that are not very productive during the summer months. The improved strains of grasses may be seeded to improve the production of these areas. A complete kill of the old sod and vegetation is necessary to get a good seedbed.

NUMEROUS office calls reflect the concern of many home gardeners about the curling of the leaves on the bottom of stake tomato plants. This is very difficult to control and is usually not a sign of any harmful disease. In most cases it is a physical condition caused by changes in temperatures and soil moisture conditions. In order to keep this condition to a minimum I would suggest that the ground between the rows and plants be mulched in order to maintain a more regular supply of soil moisture. This can be lawn clippings, peat moss, tanbark, or black plastic. In addition due to the frequent rains, it would be best to spray the plants weekly with a fungicide such as Maneb. This would help prevent the blight or other fungus diseases.

THE EFFORT to prevent the additional spread of hog cholera in this part of the state should be the responsibility of everyone. We urge hog producers to comply with the 60-day isolation period set up by the Pennsylvania Department of Animal Industry. This time is needed to be certain the newly-purchased animals are not infected and will not contaminate the rest of the herd. This isolation period applies to both feeder pigs and to purebred foundation stock that are brought into the county. Continued caution is needed to prevent producers from bringing the infection home themselves after being at public live stock places. Strict sanitation and cleanliness along with thorough disinfecting is applicable.

STAY WITH YOUR BOAT

If your boat turns over in the water stay with it even if you are a good swimmer. Many persons who drown from capsized boats are swimmers. Float the boat into the shore by holding on and paddling if there is no possible rescue available, says Joe S. Cardenuto, extension recreation specialist at Penn State.

Pool Manager Resigns

Borough manager Russell W. Garvin was granted a 30-day leave of absence. During that time, Clarence Graham will serve as acting borough manager.

Also, council gave its OK to the installation of a stop sign at Hammaker Road and Park View Drive.

Return From Camp

The Scouts of Troop 47 of Manheim returned from their week of summer camp at Camp Mack Scout Reservation recently. It was a hot week but cool sleeping at night in the mountains with the last three days of heavy rain.

THE Prayer of the Week

The Prayer this week is by Brooke F. Westcott.

"O Lord God, in Whom we live, and move, and have our being, open our eyes that we may behold Thy Fatherly presence ever about us. Draw our hearts to Thee with the power of Thy love. Teach us to be anxious for nothing, and when we have done what Thou hast given us to do, help us, O God our Savior to leave the issue to Thy wisdom. Take from us all doubt and mistrust. Lift our thoughts up to Thee in heaven, and make us to know that all things are possible to us through Thy Son our Redeemer. Amen."
