SCHOOL NOTES

Grandview

Grade 3, Room 6, at Grandview elementary school was a center of activity last week Correlating learning and doing the class made butter and ice cream when they studied dairying and dairy products.

Everybody tasted the finished product.

Room 5, Grade 3, hatched two chicks in a small incubator in their room. The children eagerly awaited the time when the chicks opened the shell, and came out of the egg.

They were thrilled to see them becoming fluffy and able to stand. It was interesting to see them eat and drink the third day. The chicks were in school a week before they were taken home to return a week later so the children can see the feathers beginning to grow, and to see how much they grow.

Basketball Project Ends

The Mt. Joy grade school basketball program will end Saturday, April 10, with a game against Marietta. The program began almost four months ago.

Back in the first week of December in 1970, 54 boys reported at the W. I. Beahm Jr. high school to enroll in the program. For more than two months the boys were drilled on fundamentals of the game. Eventually a league of six teams was organized.

To make things even more enhancing, the Mount Joy Athletic Association volunteered its services. A coach was assigned to each team and two officials were on the floor during the games.

The teams had a 10-game schedule, each meeting the others twice. The teams finished in this order: Bucks (9-1), Knicks (8-2), Celtics (4-6), Lakers (4-6), 76'ers (4-6), and the Bullets (2-8).

In the playoffs, the Celtics finished third. The Bucks conquered the Knicks 34-23 in the final game to win the championship. Again the Knicks bowed and took second place. The play-offs were held Saturday evening (Mar. 27th), and the doors at the annex were open to the public.

An all-star team was picked during the season to travel to other schools for basketball tournaments and contests. Mount Joy played Elizabethtown twice, Hershey once and will be meeting Marietta on Saturday. The boys on the all-star team are: Chris McCue, Greg Lindemuth, Brent Becker, Ken Buffenmyer, Kevin Bradley, Rich Germer, Bill Gainer, Greg Gallagher, John Hayman, Steve Hershey, Dean Hess and Mark Weidman.

Special thanks must be given to the coaches of these teams. These men gave their time and effort to improve the program. They are: Bill Vogle, Asher Neiss, Bill Zimmerman, Henry Becker, John Myers and Jerry Lindemuth. Thanks also goes to George McCue for helping to officiate some of the games.

The program was under the supervision of Bill Earhart and Jim Metzler.

Members of the six league teams include:

Bullets—Coach Hen Becker; Rich Germer, Doug Hopwood, Greg Newlin, Jake Shirk, Brian Golden, Mike Zeller, Dean Zimmerman.

Lakers—Coach John Myers—Mark Weidman, Al Newlin, Dennis Weller, Craig Johnson, Craig Myers, Jim Shue, John Hayman, Doug Shelly.

St. Marks Sets Special Service

On Thursday evening of Holy Week St. Mark's United Methodist church will be the scene of an unusual Communion and Tenebrae service, at 7:30 o'clock.

Following the opening devotions the congregation will share in the Holy Communion immediately thereafter the lights of the sanctuary will be darkened except for several candles. The choir will alternate musical selections with the reading of appropriate scripture following the journey of Jesus from the Upper Room to the Cross on Calvary. Candles will be extinguished at regular intervals until all are out and the room is in complete darkness. Among the musical selections offered by the choir will be "O Come and Mourn with Me", "Ah, Holy Jesus", "Oh, What Sorrow", "The Accursed Tree", "Behold, the Savior", and "O Love Divine". A final prayer and the benediction will be offered before the congregation leave for home in silence.

The community is invited to this special observance of Maundy Thursday.
