Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips returned recently from a three-week vacation in California and Mexico. The highlight of their trip was visiting with their son, Stevan, whom they had not seen in five months. He is a student at the College of the Desert in Palm Desert, California, taking courses in business law and also working as an operator for a telephone company there. While in Palm Desert they enjoyed a Mexican dinner with Stevan, saw a fascinating art show by Juan Miro and marveled at the 30-foot tall palm date trees located right outside the door of their son's home. Between the date trees were grapefruit trees with fruit approximately the size of a large orange, and very tasty. Balboa Park in San Diego was breathtaking, with the gorgeous flowers all in full bloom as they are here in August. They spent several days with a former Mount Joy family, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Holmes and family, Katy, Kit and Julie, who live in a suburb of San Diego, La Jolla, which Mrs. Phillips labeled as "the garden spot of Southern California," with the many beautiful flowers, trees and summertime atmosphere, right on the Pacific Ocean. With Mr. and Mrs. Holmes they spent a week end on the peninsula of Baja, in Mexico. At Rosarita they shopped with the colorful natives at their fabulous outdoor markets. In Tijuana they shopped and ate a Mexican meal near the Jai Lai Palace. An interesting sight in this area were the many fields of bamboo, where the Mexicans were sitting, stripping and weaving the bamboo into baskets to sell. They toured the area 16 miles north of San Diego where the forest fires in the fall of last year left the beautiful country barren, black and desolate.

From San Diego they flew to San Francisco and spent six days enjoying the many sights, such as the Fisherman's wharf, shopped on Maiden Lane and in Macy's Department store, ate lunch at the Iron Horse, visited numerous art museums, which included a show by Georgia O'Keefe, and entertained a former Mount Joy resident at dinner, Miss Barbara Olson. She lives in San Francisco and works for an investment company there. With Miss Olson they rode the cable car to Chinatown. On a Sunday morning they spent several hours watching a Japanese Cherry Festival, which included traditional Japanese dances and many delicately decorated floats. They were particularly impressed with the beautiful Japanese children in their native dress. A half hour ferry trip across the San Francisco harbor gave them a view of the forsaken Alcatraz prison, where Indians now live and the beautiful Oakland Bridge, which they report was more impressive than the Golden Gate bridge. On the other side of the harbor was the town of Sausalito, where they spent their last night with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Firman Bradway. Upon arriving in Baltimore more they were greeted with snow and sleet, but were filled with memories of an unforgettable vacation in the sun amid the many beauties of nature.

Mrs. Anthony Warta, a former resident of Mount Joy, is currently a patient in the Rush hospital, Rt. 202 in Malvern Pa. She is receiving physical therapy for a fall suffered on March 30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anita Tuerk, with whom she had been living with for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Divet and sons Gary and Mark spent the week end camping at Cowan's Gap State Park. Besides enjoying pleasant weather, they caught three trout in the lake located in the park.

Two local girls were recently accepted for nurses training at the Lancaster General hospital beginning next September, they are Miss Denise Wagner, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Wagner and Miss Vicki Kendig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kendig. Both girls are seniors at Donegal high school.

To prevent egg yolks from coming out powdery, keep the water from boiling—cook at simmer heat. The whites will taste better, too.
