CURED PORK

Some cuts of pork sold today may taste like ham, but they come from a different part of the carcass, according to Catherine B. Love, Extension consumer education specialist at Penn State. Picnic is sometimes erroneously called ham. It actually is cured shoulder, rather than the hind leg. If you see a cut labeled "cottage roll" it is the cured Boston butt. These are excellent cuts of meat but should cost less than ham

TELEPHONE MANNERS

Teach your child good telephone manners early, advises James E. Van Horn, Extension family life specialist at Penn State. By the age of five or six, he should be able to answer the phone courteously and carry on a pleasant conversation.

Nicholas Appert was awarded a prize of 12,000 francs by Napoleon for his invention of canning.
