NANCY NEWCOMER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lesher and sons, Brian and Kelly, returned Sunday, Aug. 22 after a four-day camping trip through New York state and Canada. They visited the Pennsylvania Grand Canyon at Wellsboro, toured the Taylor winery at Hammondsport, New York, enroute to their goal, Niagara Falls. The boys and their father donned rain apparel and took the scenic tunnel tour under the Canadian Horseshoe Falls. While in Canada they toured the Ontario Hydro Power Plant, enjoyed a view of the falls from the Oneida Tower, visited the Niagara Falls museum, saw Fort George, which was used during the War of 1812, and went through a horticultural school where various vegetables, flowers, trees & plants were growing for educational purposes.

Kevin Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milligan, and Corky Flick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flick, are among the boys attending a week's camp at Camp Kirchenwald this week, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania State Police. The boys, 12 years old, will be going into eighth grade this fall.

Sue Eshleman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Shleman recently completed work for a Master of Arts degree in child development in the College of Human Development at Cornell University.

Mrs. Joseph Norman of Warrenton, Va., is in Mount Joy for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Robert D. Walker, east Main street. Mrs. Walker has been in Virginia the week end of Aug. 14 to attend the wedding of a great-niece, Rebecca Jane Elgin, to David Kroner. The ceremony was held in the Episcopal church and the reception was held at the home of the bride near Middleburg, Va. Mrs. Kroner was graduated from college in June and will be teaching this year while her husband pursues his education as a second year student in medical school.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sheetz and sons Jon and Chris have returned from a week's vacation at Stone Harbor, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Heisey, Mount Joy R1 have returned from a 23-day, 5500 mile trip that took them to a convention and workshop of the International Guild of Candle Artisans held at Air-lie, Warrenton, Va., of which they are members. They then went through West Virginia to Kentucky, where they had a bus tour of the Blue Grass country and horse farms around Lexington, Ashland home of Henry Clay, to the capital at Frankfort and the world's largest floral clock. At Louisville they toured Churchill Downs, they drove through Fort Knox, then to Hodgenville to Lincoln's birthplace and on to Caro, Ill., where they turned north to Springfield, Ill., for a bus and walking tour of Lincoln's home and grave.

In West Branch, Iowa, they visited the Herbert Hoover site (birthplace, grave and museum). Outside of Grand Island, Neb., in the Stahr museum, they saw life depicted in the opening of the prairies. They visited the original Pony Express station at Gothenburg, Neb. They visited Cheyenne, Wvoming, and stayed at Holding's Little America. They turned south over Snowy Pass, which tops 10,300 ft., and they made snow balls on the 3rd of August. They visited Mrs. Heisey's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore at Odgen, Utah.

They continued to Salt Lake City and saw the capitol and took a tour of Temple Square. Because of the funeral of the wife of the president, they were unable to hear the noon program of the organ. They then drove to Salt Lake and to the Bangham Canyon mines of Kenacote Copper, from where they turned east toward Denver. They stopped at the Dinosaur Quarry, from where most of the bones of the skeletons seen in museums have come from. They took a bus tour of Denver, the mile high city, saw the home of the Unsinkable Molly Brown. Then to Colorado Springs for the convention of the National Star Route Mail Carriers association, held in the Antlers Plaza Hotel. While there they took trips by bus to the U. S. Air Force Academy, to the top of Pike's Peak, 14,310 ft., where it was snowing. They came down the cog railroad, to Royal Gorge, Seven Falls, Garden of the Gods and the Flying W Ranch for a Chuck Wagon Supper. Both were delegates, Heisey, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Branch and Mrs. Heisey to the Auxiliary.

Returning on I70 they stopped at Abilene, Kans., at the Eisenhower Center, the Harry Truman Library at Independence, Mo., and the Air-force museum at Dayton, O.

Since returning home Heisey has found that Warrenton, Va., is where he heard of Pearl Harbor the night of December 7, 1941, when the 28th Division stayed there for the night going from the North Carolina maneuvers to Indiantown Gap.

If you have been on a vacation, a week end trip, entertained out of town friends or had a party, call me with the information at 653-5701. Deadline for each week's paper is Monday noon.

For recreation, President John Quincy Adams used to swim for miles in the Patomic River!

Democrats Plan Aug. 31st Rally

Two county candidates, running for office on the Democratic ticket, will visit Mount Joy on Tuesday, August 31, for a public rally at the Florin Fire company firehouse, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

They are Gene Mowery, candidate for county commissioner, and Patrick M. Reynolds, candidate for sheriff.

Local candidates will attend and the public is invited.

Urge New Pupils To Register

Donegal School District is urging all new students to register at the office of their assigned building on or before Tuesday, August 31.

Building offices are open from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. each weekday. Any previous school records as well as birth certificates, would be useful in this registration.

The district schools will open for all students on Wednesday, Sept. 8, on the same time schedule as last year. An in-service day for the entire professional staff has been scheduled for Tuesday, September 7. The district has scheduled its fifth annual orientation day for new teachers on Thursday, Sept. 2.

There will be some minor changes in the district transportation schedules for 1971-72, which will be announced.

The district elementary schools will have two full-time physical education n-structors assigned to them for the first time during the '71-72 school year.

school salvaged what property was deemed worth the effort and was useful.

Vandals, too, have been active on the Schock home and it now is a shambles. However, before it may be torn down careful thought is being given as to what is best to do at this point.

One of the questions is whether to completely tear down the building or to save what is usable and possibly rebuilt it if some suitable school use can be initiated.

The land was left to Donegal district by the late Clarence Schock who specified that it shall not be sold but is to remain in the hands of the schools, under their trusteeship
