Will Test Students

Students from the Donegal School District will be participating this year in a nationwide study designed to describe the educational attainments of groups of young Americans. R. F. Hallgren, superintendent has announced that approximately 950 districts throughout the United States selected by random sampling procedures to participate in the project, the National Assessment of Educational Progress. Hallgren said he was contacted by Miss Elaine Yermack, district supervisor to discuss the district's cooperation and to establish a schedule for conducting the assessment in the district schools. Samples of students aged 13, and 17 will be chosen, also using random sampling procedures, to respond to assessment exercises in two subject areas, music and social studies. Miss Yermack, Hallgren and the principals of the selected schools arranged to conduct the 13-year-old assessment during the weeks of Oct. 11-12, 1971, and 17-year-old assessment will be conducted during the weeks of Oct. 11-12, 1972.

Music and social studies are only two of 10 subject areas which National Assessment includes. Five other subjects have already been assessed: science, writing, citizenship, reading, and literature. Three other subjects will be assessed in coming years: mathematics, art, and career occupational development.

Place High on Merit Tests

Letters of commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1971 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT) have been awarded to two students at Donegal high school, Principal W. Drenner has announced.

Those commended are G. Jean Heilig and Leslie D. Engle. They are among 35,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1972. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 Semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corp. (NMSC).

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition standing in this nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their high performance on the NMQT gives promise of continued success in college."

Jaycees to Sell Honey

During the month of October, Jaycees throughout Lancaster county will be selling jars of honey to help support the Big Brother Organization of Lancaster County.

It has been brought to the attention by the Lancaster County Jaycees that Big Brothers, an organization founded by the Lancaster Jaycees, is in need of financial help. Big Brothers receives no financial aid from the State or Federal Government. It is not a member of United Fund and therefore receives money only through donations from the general public.

Jaycees in Mount Joy, East Petersburg, Ephrata, Lancaster, Leola, Millersville, New Holland, Strasburg and Willow Street will be selling honey with all profits going to the Big Brother organization. Other Jaycee Chapters in the county which will be helping Big Brothers by donations or similar project will be Cocalico, Conestoga, Hempfield, Manheim Twp., Quarryville and Marietta.

Due to the fact that the honey is being purchased from a well-known local merchant, all money taken in on this project will be spent locally, all money will remain here in Lancaster county. Honey has been chosen because pancake season is coming up and honey is so good on just about everything. It is a natural organic food and has a government grade of "A".
