Albert Newlin Wins DSA

Albert C. Newlin, 220 East Main street, received the 1972 Distinguished Service Award, given each year by the Mount Joy Jaycees.

The honor was presented Saturday nite, Jan. 22, as the Jaycees held their annual DSA banquet and brought to a climax their local observance of their yearly observance of National Jaycee week.

The banquet was held at the American Legion.

Newlin was presented the award by Andy Reymer, 1971 winner of the honor.

Besides Newlin, the Jaycees recognized Bill Zimmerman and Mary Hoffmaster for their contributions to the community during the past year.

Speaker for Saturday's banquet was Grover Gouker, past Jaycee state president.

Mayor Clark Berrier officially opened the week by proclaiming Jaycee Week in the community.

On Sunday, 70 local men attended the first Jaycee prayer breakfast. Rev. Henry Harrison of Maranatha Evangelistic Productions gave the morning message. Following the breakfast, eight local Jaycees worshipped together at the First Presbyterian church led by Rev. Steven Getty, himself a Jaycee.

Monday night, eight men entertained their bosses at the Central House to announce the outstanding boss of the year.

Jaycee Jim McNiff's boss was named winner of the "Boss of the Year" award. He is Richard Graff, manager of the Armstrong carpet plant at Marietta. Graff, an Armstrong employe for 22 years, was cited on the strength of an essay written by McNiff, who is production planning manager.

The banquet was attended by 22 persons with Larry Gainer, master of ceremonies, and Phil Laht, past Lancaster Jaycees president, as the main speaker.

Tuesday evening marked Library night when chairman Clair Snook presented a book and flag contract to Al Newlin, president of the Mount Joy library association. Following the presentation, John Harnish and Larry Gainer spoke to the local Jayceettes at the Jaycee headquarters. Wednesday night featured a visitation to the Mount Joy vocational Technical School with ten people representing the club.

On Thursday the flags were displayed on Main street.

School Board Accepts New Riverview Bldg.

Riverview elementary school — 40 months after ground was broken—has been accepted officially by the Donegal schools.

Action to assume responsibility was taken Thursday night, Jan. 20, as the Donegal School Board held its monthly meeting in the D.H. S. library.

Acceptance was voted despite the fact several items are not completely satisfactory to the school officials.

Although most were termed "minor" some were placed in the category of being "something we have to learn to live with."

The item probably most permanently unsatisfactory is a water drainage condition along one of the driveways, which is an annoyance each time there is inclement weather.

Another item more typical of the unsatisfactory matters is a problem with door locks in some areas.

School board members felt that at this point it is more important to accept the building and to claim additional state funds for the finished building than to wait and to battle with persons believed to be responsible.

The building, which has a state rated capacity of 910 pupils, was erected at a cost of $1,182,992.

DAR REPRESENTATIVE

Joani Little, Donegal high school student, has been awarded the "DAR Good Citizen" award for Donegal H. S. She was one of several girls chosen by her classmates in a preliminary nomination. From these nominations, she was selected by faculty members of D. H. S.

She will receive the Good Citizen's Pin and a Certificate from the Donegal Chapter of the DAR. Joani is now eligible to compete for state and national awards.
