Area Students On Dean's List

More than a dozen Penn State students living in the area have been honored for academic excellence during the fall term, which ended in December.

An average of 3.5 or better is required for Dean's List recognition.

Those included are:
James E. Grube, Manheim R1; Frank D. Kirchoff, Manheim R1; Michael R. Koser, 233 Rapho St., Manheim; Sally Lou Plasterer, 36 S. Fulton street, Manheim; Dennis Eugene Hay, Maytown;
Craig Alan Gainer, 140 Park avenue, Mt. Joy; Thomas E. Saffko, 331 Cedar Lane, Mount Joy; Stephen K. Irwin, 623 Church St., Mount Joy; Donald J. Long, 6060 Main street, East Petersburg; Belinda Rae Wilson, 6301 High street, East Petersburg.

GREASE ON WALLPAPER

To remove grease spots from wallpaper, try holding a clean white blotter over the spot with a warm iron for several minutes. The heat should melt the oil or grease so it can be absorbed by the blotter.

MANY SMALL LOTS CAN BE PLANTED

If your lot is too small for any planting try using some potted trees and shrubs. For example, evergreens will grow well in almost any kind of container, remind Extension ornamental horticulture specialists at Penn State.

WHAT IS A LEEK?

A leek is an onion with flat, smooth leaves and little bulb development. Extension consumers specialists at Pennsylvania State university say the leek is used for flavoring and in salads. The wild leek is sometimes called "ramp" and is usually cooked with Canadian bacon fat.

MEAT INSPECTION STAMP

If you've ever wondered if the dye used for the USDA inspection stamp on meats is safe to eat, Extension consumer specialists at Penn State, have some reassuring news. The grading and inspection stamps are, indeed, stamped in purple vegetable dye. But the dye is harmless and you don't need to remove it.

USE A STEP LADDER

Keep a sturdy, attractive step ladder or stepstool on hand to safely reach high places. And store things you will use least often at the highest or lowest point suggest Extension home management specialists at Penn State.
