

Lawn Care Assistance

Many home owners having lawn problems look for assistance to their country Agricultural Extension Agent, the extension turf specialist, at Penn State or to an agricultural supply house, which are providing this service today.

Another very convenient source of information is Penn State University's correspondence course on Lawn Care written by the turf specialist at Penn State.

To anyone contemplating development of a new lawn, the renovation or improvement of your present lawn, a soil test is the important first step in this program. In Pennsylvania these soil testing kits may be secured from the county Agricultural Extension Agent for a minimal cost. Soil samples are secured and mailed to the soil testing laboratory at Penn State where an analysis is made and recommendations returned by mail. Instructions for proper sampling are enclosed with the kit.

Subjects discussed in the course include fertilizers, grasses and grass seed mixtures, seedbed preparation and seeding, liming, maintenance fertilization, mowing, irrigation, aeration and thatch control, weed control and insect, disease and miscellaneous problems.

To secure a copy of the course, send name and address to Box 5000, University Park, Pa. 16802. Ask for Home Lawns and include a check in the amount of $4.25 payable to Penn State University.
