

PP&L Personnel Changes Made

PP&L has announced a series of personnel re-alignments reflecting the company's elimination of promotional practices inducing growth of electrical loads. According to PP&L President Jack K. Busby, "A complete re-amination of customer-related practices and procedures has been underway to see what changes are necessary to bring PP&L's performance into line with the changing attitudes of people. Meeting customers' electric energy needs will continue to remain paramount. With the elimination of our sales and promotional efforts, we will concentrate on serving only as energy consultants to our customers, and will continue to help them make the most effective and efficient use of their electric service." In line with this announced policy, the Marketing Department has been restructured into a new Department of Consumer and Community Affairs.

B. S. Shunk, Lancaster Division's vice president, announced the following personnel changes:

Edward A. Paul, formerly Sales Manager - Lancaster Division, is appointed Manager-Consumer & Community Affairs and will head the new department in the Lancaster Division. Arch G. Knisely, formerly Community Service Manager, is appointed Community Affairs Manager. Jesse L. Lowe, formerly Supervisor-Industrial and Commercial Sales, is appointed Supervisor - Industrial & Commercial Consultants. John H. Hartman, formerly Supervisor-Residential Sales, is appointed Supervisor - Residential Consultants.

Thompson, with Miss Jane Kauffman, Litz, as harp soloist, and "Hymn For Our Time" by Beck, with Miss Cynthia Keller, Lebanon, at the piano. Singing with the choir is Miss Elizabeth Rainboat, a senior, of Mount Joy.

The College-Community Orchestra, which made its debut in February, performed "Variations on A Shaker Melody" by Copland and "Finlandia" by Sibelius.

Presents Major Music Work

One of Beethoven's major religious works, the "Mass in C Major, Opus 83," was performed by the Elizabethtown College Concert Choir and the College-Community Orchestra in a spring concert on Sunday, April 16.

The program, during which each ensemble performed separately, was held in the Elizabethtown high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Harry L. Simmers, associate professor of music, directed the Concert Choir, and Otis D. Kitchen, also an associate professor, the College-Community Orchestra.

There were four soloists for the Mass, which is divided into five movements corresponding generally to the five sections of the Catholic High Mass.

They were Misses Christine Rutt, soprano, and Donna Hoover, contralto, both of New Holland; Fred Benner, Elizabethtown, tenor; and Robert Kettering, Hershey, bass.

The Concert Choir recently completed an Easter tour of western Pennsylvania.

During its part of the program, it performed "Sing To The Lord a New Song" by Newburg, "Gloria" by Dufay and "Sanctus and Hosanna" by Gabrieli, both pieces for multi-dimensional choir; "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by
