property owners in the borough who still are not connected to the public sewer system. Two have taken permits to do the work but have not connected. All are to be given notices by the borough attorney.

—A request for additional street lights on Union School Road was delayed for study at the time of budget making.

—proposal was made to remove the one 12-minute parking meter at the west side of the post office—on the grounds that parking there poses a traffic problem to trucks. Any action was lost for want of a second to the motion.

—Three members of the Friendship Fire company appeared to hear determination of a bill for installing lights at the fire house. Previously, a request for "consideration" of the bill by the firemen was tabled by council pending receipt of further information. Council said Monday, "We now think the lights are fine". The bill for $76.43 was ordered paid.

—Borough Council was informed by its lawyer that, as the case was presented to him, the borough is prohibited from making a contribution to the proposed medical building.

—The attorney further reported that a proposal to use the relatively inactive "poor coal funds" for proposes of donations to other causes isn't permissible.

—Approval was given to a subdivision project along Sasfrass alley between Jacob & High streets. A proposal to erect a 43'x64' steel building on land previously owned by the Penn Central railroad was given, pending investigation of water and sewer requirements. The building would be an annex to the Leaman Tire company & located immediately south of the present business.

—Approval of a second subdivision matter was delayed at the east edge of the boro where Patrick Industries proposes to establish a manufacturing plant along Eby Chiques road.

—Council approved a "double" payment of yearly dues to the state borough's association. During the flood, serious damage was done to the organization's headquarters in Harrisburg. Annual dues are $155. The association asked for a second similar amount to help pull itself out of an estimated $75,000 damage situation.

—Police Chief J. Bruce Kline, in the absence of Clark Berrier, gave the mayor's monthly report.

Offer Free Adult Classes

Free adult education courses for those people who may have dropped out of high school or failed to get their high school diploma are to be offered this fall, sponsored by the Intermediate Unit 13.

Even those people who may want to improve their reading, arithmetic, science, social studies or English skills are eligible.

Classes will be held evenings from 6:30 until 10 p.m. it is announced by Gene Newcomer.

Those interested who live in the Manheim area may attend classes at Raybestos-Manhattan, Inc., 123 Stiegel St., Manheim on Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 19.

In the Mount Joy and Elizabethtown areas, those interested may attend at the Mt. Joy Vo-Tech school Mt. Joy R2, on Mondays and Wednesdays beginning Sept. 18.

Classes are different from traditional high school. Courses are operated on an individual basis and students are competing only with themselves and not with anyone else in the class.

There are special classes for those who can not read and for those who can not speak or understand English.

Registration may be made by reporting to one of the classes or by calling Newcomer 653-5701, for additional information of the American As-

CONTROL

Every man who drives a race car is aware of what the slightest little slip can mean when he is speeding toward victory at over 100 miles an hour. Our everyday emotions pose a similar threat. When the emotions of anger or frustration cause us to act haphazardly instead of using the necessary control learned from experience, we may go into a spin from which we cannot recover, and we may lose that particular race. We need strength to participate in the race of life, but without self-control we handicap ourselves enormously.

On August 7, 1970, a 90-day cease fire began in the Mid-east.

Congress created the U. S. War Department on Aug. 7, 1789.

On August 7, 1942, United States Marines landed on Guadalcanal.

Factories Help Tax Problem

As huge, yellow mechanical caterpillars roll slowly back and forth across a field at the east edge of Mount Joy borough, trailing plumes of brown Lancaster county earth, the community can see the beginning of another phase in the continuing development of this community.

The mechanical monsters are preparing the ground for Mount Joy's newest industrial plant. This one will belong to Parkwood Homes, Inc., an Indiana firm which is taking its first expansion step into the Eastern market.

Where corn, wheat and tobacco have grown for many years—in recent times under the ownership of J. Roy Breneman—now will be located a big manufacturing building which will "grow" mobile housing units for a wide area of this part of the nation.

When ground was broken, it was hoped by the management that manufacturing would begin by November 1. But, at present that target looks very optimistic.

What impact the new industry will have upon the community is still unpredictable.

Development of the area will make a very sizeable increase in the value of the property and that change will be reflected on the tax rolls of the borough and the school district.

For example, despite steeply increasing costs on all sides and a public financial pressure never before experienced in this community, Mount Joy Borough has had minimum real estate tax increases.

Why? One reason is that in recent years the community has had a sizable growth of industrial property.

These plants located in the borough and in the school district have added greatly to the area's evaluation and have helped to soften the already too-heavy tax burden upon property owners.

How previous industrial development has affected and how it will continue to affect the community still is in the making.

But, one thing is certain. These new plants have helped greatly to lighten the tax bite upon the local community and school district.

The Parkwood Homes development and the proposed further expansion on the same site will have the same effect as the Indiana firm pours thousands and thousands and hundreds of hundreds of thousands of dollars into the project—raising the valuation and upping the tax contribution to the local municipalities.

DISSOLVE

Do you sometimes feel that your life is a continual process of problem solving? When you find the solution to one problem, another immediately presents itself. In the field of human dynamics, it is often more important to find the cause than to try to solve each problem separately. It is true that we are often our own worst enemy. If you have an ideal or goal you wish to achieve, look to see if you are throwing up your own roadblock. Your shortcut of success is to dissolve self-defeat!

OPTIMISM

There are some persons who are optimistic simply because they choose to be that way. The cynic may ask, "Why should I be optimistic? What is there to be optimistic about?" The answer is we must choose to be optimistic because any other path may lead to quiet desperation. It is possible to be aware of the seriousness of personal or world problems, but at the same time express optimism about the outcome. Good answers come with the blending of awareness and optimism.

MOVEMENT

A lover of nature invariably draws comparisons between what he beholds in nature, and what he finds in the nature of man. While walking the banks of a rapidly flowing brook, he can observe places where the water rushes, tumbling noisily, or places where it is flowing easily into deep pools filled with quiet serenity which nevertheless are still moving. Isn't this the way our lives move? Sometimes we rush or tumble along in confusion, perhaps enjoying the flow and movement. But we should also seek times of quietness in the certainty that nothing stagnates where there is movement.

WCTU CONVENTION

The 88th Annual Convention of the Lancaster County Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Church of the Brethren, Clay and Hoover streets, Mountville on Wednesday, Sept. 13. There will be a morning and afternoon session with a box lunch at noon.

David Grimm from the Pa. Council on Alcohol Problems will be the speaker. Mrs. Dundore, state president, also will attend.

Anybody needing transportation may contact Mrs. C. E. Weaver of 72 South Hentzel man street, of the Manheim area.

Registration will start at 9 a.m.

UNION VICTORY

On July 5, 1861, Union Brig. Gen. Nathaniel Lyon stopped Confederate Coy Franz Siegel's advance near Carthage, Missouri.

The design for the White House was a contest sponsored by the federal government and won by James Hoban, who was awarded a $500.00 prize.
