PLANT PERENNIALS

September is a good time to plant many perennials, reminds Extension ornamental specialists at Penn State. Iris, poenies, daylillies, hardy bulbs, and phlox are among those which can be set. Try to buy plants locally or from very nearby mail order firms, so that such plants will have less adjusting to do before winter.

The official U. S. standard of weight is the kilogram.

The vitamins in fruits and vegetables are concentrated in hand and directly beneath the skins. Mrs. Ruth Buck, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Penn State, says a heavy moving the skin of fruits and vegetables before you cook them allows more of the remaining vitamins to go into the cooking water.
