Chessmen Wins Fifth

The W. I. Beahm junior high chess team won its fifth chess match by a 5-2 score over Lincoln Junior High.

Beahm's record is now five wins and two losses. Scott Hershey, playing first board, defeated Elwood Landis in a hard-fought game. Landis resigned after the 45th move. Barb Landis, Beahm's second board player, lost to Bob Stone in 30 moves. Barb was making a strong come back but failed to capture a pawn at a crucial time and Stone's advantage prevailed.

Wayne Erb won a point for Beahm by defeating John Brooks with little trouble. Gregg Bryant, Beahm's fourth board, beat Bob Steely in a come-from-behind win. Bryant lost both knights early in the game but then took Steely's queen and won easily.

Beahm's Lance Wilson beat Steve Scheuchenzuber in 26 moves with little opposition. Claudia Brandt, playing board six for Beahm, destroyed Jim Weed in 18 moves. Beahm's Keith Gephart lost in an upset to Carl Pearl. Gephart resigned after an unsuccessful comeback try.

Mrs. Sharon Dietz, Beahm's chess coach, is hoping the team can recapture first place in the league by defeating Pequea Valley. The match will be played at Pequea at 4 p.m.

THINK

The human mind has marvelous faculties, but it needs direction. If we allow our thinking to dwell in negativism, we can rob ourselves of all sense of fulfillment. The worries that take the very joy out of life more often than not are based on simple or even imaginary troubles which we have dwelt on until they mushroomed into a real state of anxiety. Guard your thought processes well, and you can prevent little difficulties from building into states of worry all out of proportion to what they really are.
