

AWARD HONORS & RECOGNITION

Jaycees/Joycee-ettes Induct Officers

Mount Joy Jaycees and Joycee-ettes held their annual installation and awards banquet Saturday night, March 31, at the Howard Johnson's restaurant, east of Lancaster.

Newly-elected Presidents Thomas Meckley and Mrs. John Harnish were given the oaths of office by Past Presidents Larry Gainer and Mrs. Carl Hallgren.

Also installed were: Jaycee officers — Vice Presidents Ronald Wagner and Joseph Heckert, Secretary Jack Blace, Treasurer William Bower, Directors Jeff Brown, Robert Gantz, Jerry Nolt and Robert Behling. Jaycee-ette officers — Vice President Mrs. Dennis Fackler, Secretary Mrs. Jack Blace, Treasurer Mrs. James Gingerich, Director Mrs. Stephen Getty, Editor Mrs. Robert Gantz, Historian Mrs. Jerald Nolt, and Messiah Home Chairman Mrs. Michael Aument.

The Outstanding Jaycee and Jaycee-ette awards were given to Jeff Brown and Mrs. Robert Gantz, Outstanding Committee Chairmen awards to Stephen Getty and Mrs. John Harnish. The Jaycee-ettes also honored Mrs. Ronald Hawthorne as Outstanding Board member and the Exhausted Hen Award. Mrs. Kenneth Weber received the Outstanding New Member Award; Mrs. Stephen Getty, Special Recognition Award, and Mrs. Patrick Moran was given the Service to Club Award.

The Jaycees presented the Spoke Award to Michael Klemer and the Exhausted Rooster Award to Leo Moore.

NEW PRESIDENTS of the Mount Joy Joycee-ettes and of the Mount Joy Jaycees were inducted into office Saturday night at a banquet held by the two organizations. They are: (left) Mrs. John Harnish, and Thomas Meckley. They succeed Mrs. Carl Hallgren and Larry Gainer.

Donegal Boys & Girls Win 40% Of All Honors Given At County Science Fair

As is usually the case, each year, Donegal boys and girls again walked away from the annual Lancaster County Science Fair with more than their share of the honors!

There were 79 reconitions made last week at the Country Day School, where the Fair was held, and Donegal claimed 32 of them — or 40 percent.

Top winner for Donegal district was Lynn Weaver, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, 277 W. Walnut street, Marietta.

She proved, scientifically, what the bums who sleep on park benches have suspected for a long long time — that newspapers are cheap (and good) insulators.

But, it was Lynn — not the bums — who won a third place in the big 1973 competition!

She layered newspapers and aluminum foil in five laminations and showed that some of the commercial insulations come off rather poorly by comparison in price and effectiveness.

She called her project, "A New Insulator: Economically and Ecologically Effective."

The project also won Lynn a second place from the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers; a first U.S. Navy Award and an award from the Society of American Value Engineers.

In the chemistry division of the Fair, Donegal swept the field, taking first, second, and third and two honorable mention placements.

Sharon Steckbeck took first with a study into the precipitation of certain chemicals from other chemicals. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Steckbeck, 204 N. Barbara street.

Second place went to Elaine Pennell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pennell, 247 Marietta street; third to Nancy Jo Greenawalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Greenawalt, and honorable mentions to Sylvia Howry and Sharon Zimmerman.

Sharon Steckbeck's win also gave her a U.S. Army Award in chemistry and a first place Chemical Society Award. Elaine's second gave her, additionally, a third Civil Defense Award and a chemistry honor from the Air Force.

Donegal grabbed a first and second and an honorable mention

Well Drilling Rig Moved To New Site

A well drilling rig which has been located along Union School road and which has caused a storm of mixed reactions is gone!

The outfit, owned by a Harrisburg company, has been moved to a spot west of town and erected again on land owned by Abner Wolgemuth in his Oak Lane development.

Drilling attempts are being made by the Mount Joy Borough Authority, which is seeking a new source of water for the local municipal system.

Although both locations — Union School road and the Wolgemuth development — are in East Donegal township, the first spot ran into "neighbor" trouble and drilling operations were stopped just short of putting a drill bit into the ground.

At the new site, in an open field selected by a geologist who believes that it is well situated to bring in a high-production well, there have been no objections and all parties concerned have given permission to drill.

SUNDAY VESPER MUSIC

Three Will Present Concert

RICHARD MERRITT
Soloist

On Sunday, April 8, at 4 p.m., Mrs. Romayne Bridgett and Richard Merritt, accompanied by Dr. David E. Schlosser, organist, will present a concert of sacred music in St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

Merritt resides in Elizabethtown and is Coordinator of Elementary Education at Elizabethtown college. He is a voice student with Mrs. Bridgett and is director of the choirs at Mount Calvary Church. He has appeared as a soloist with the Hershey Community Chorus, the Lancaster Bible College and the Choral Union at the college. He is a former member of the Lancaster Opera Workshop.

Mrs. Bridgett is a well-known contralto. A native of Mount Joy, she is widely known as a soloist and voice teacher. She is the recipient of the Arts and Letters Award for the interpretation of Debussy when she studied in Paris. At the present time she teaches music at Lancaster Catholic high school and currently is serving as president of the Lancaster Opera Workshop. She has appeared in many workshop productions.

Dr. Schlosser has been the faithful and well-known organist at St. Luke's Church for 25 years and is a local physician.

The concert will consist of works by Bach, Handel, Mendelssohn, Dvorak, Howell, Haydn, MacDermid, Robertson, Guion and Purcell.

An invitation is extended to the people of the area to attend. Admission is free but an offering will be received.

ART SHOW HUNG AT LIBRARY

Seventeen water colors and three pen and ink drawings by Joanne Patricia Mengel of Marietta are hanging this week in the Mount Joy Library Center for the enjoyment of the general public.

A former public school art teacher, her show includes still life, landscapes, waterfront scenes and several paintings of Marietta buildings - some along Front street.

Some of the water colors and ink drawings are of the same subjects.

The show is hung throughout the first-floor rooms of the library.

Chamber Commerce Holds Banquet and Election

Albert Newlin has been re-elected president of the Mount Joy Chamber of Commerce.

He was named Tuesday night, March 27, by the board of directors following the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, held at Hostetters.

Other officers elected include: Lester Hostetter, vice-president, and Joseph Shaeffer, secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the organization include: Newlin, Shaeffer, Hostetter, Charles O. Groff, Jay Greider, Andrew Reymer, Richard A. Rainbolt, Earl Koser, Pat Moran, G. Walter Sloan, Bernerd Grissinger, James Roberts, Mack Rupard, Ralph Oberholtzer, Robert McGinley and Mike Savitske.

Program Tuesday evening was given by Robert I. Derck of Litz, landscape architect, who has been directly connected with the re-development of downtown Litz.

He showed "before and after" slides of a number of business locations and told of some of the plans the borough has for the future.

A change in location of the Florin area playground is being considered for 1973.

Under study is a proposal to move activity from the Grandview school to the Florin playground.

Director Warren Hayman looks with a favored eye upon the shade trees at the Florin location, just west of the fire hall.

Officials were scheduled to have an "on site" conference early this week and then present the proposal to the borough council on Monday, April 9, at the body's monthly meeting.

Stories of cattle rustling are not all on television!

A relative living in Southern Indiana who farms several acres of land and keeps a sizable herd of cattle has been "raided" twice.
