

WELL DRILLING

does not include permission to build whatever pump house may be necessary if a suitable well is brought in. For borough purposes, a well short of 100 gallons per minute is not regarded as large enough to justify harnessing.

Determination of the capacity of the well to be drilled is the first objective of the Authority. When and if a satisfactory well is driven, then the matter of harnessing will be explored.

However, officials of East Donegal township have, Borough Manager George Ulrich said last week, agreed to clarify township zoning regulations which finally caused the drilling to be abandoned on Union School road.

It has been agreed that actual drilling of water wells in the township is not prohibited by zoning. However, erecting a pump building and installing "rotating power equipment" is a matter in question.

The quoted phrase above has been one of the principal stumbling blocks in finding a way through the legal and emotional tangle which has surrounded the drilling attempt on Union School road.

The Authority has now abandoned all efforts on the first site, which belonged to Mrs. Nelson Sentz. The drilling and purchase options have expired and agreements with the drilling company have been made to change the location of the motorized drilling rig.

SCIENCE FAIR

in physics — Jay Kopp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kopp, Mount Joy R2, was division champ with a study concerned with the fuel crisis.

Jim Gerberich placed second, using mice in an underwater experiment, and Linda Stoltzfus claimed an honorable mention with a study of the efficiency of a light bulb.

Kopp also won an engineering award from the U.S. Army and Gerberich received second honors from the Naval Institute and from the U.S. Navy.

Dean Buchenauer, entered in the biology division, placed third for Donegal with a project investigating the voices of frogs. Ramon Sell and Dennis Heller received both honorable mentions in the division.

Buchenauer also had a third award from the Medical Society and another in zoology from the U.S. Army.

SICO Foundation Names Four New Officers

Dr. D.L. Biemesderfer, president of the SICO Foundation has announced four new appointments, following a recent board of directors meeting.

Dr. Harry K. Gerlach, deputy commissioner of Basic Education for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and a director of the SICO Foundation, was elected vice president of the foundation. He will replace the late Dr. William E. Nitrauer.

Arthur A. Hackman, director of the SICO Foundation; Raymond T. Rinehart, assistant manager of the oil burner division at SICO; and Edward W. Zercher, Jr., manager of retail marketing, were all appointed directors of the company.

Dr. Gerlach has served as principal at Fulton Township, East Lampeter Township and Solanco Area Schools in Lancaster county; and Spring City Schools in Chester county. He was assistant superintendent and superintendent of Lancaster county schools for 13 years. Before being named to his present post with the Pennsylvania Department of Education last year, he served as Executive Director of Lancaster-Lebanon Intermediate Unit 13, and as Assistant Commissioner for Basic Education and School Administration for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Hackman joined the Board of the SICO Foundation in July, 1970. He had served as supervising principal of the East Hempfield school district from 1937 to 1952, and retired as superintendent of the Hempfield school district in Landisville.

Rinehart joined the company in 1941 as a clerk in the Mount Joy Office. After service in the U.S. Army during World War II, he rejoined the company as dispatcher. He was named assistant manager of the oil burner division in 1954, and service manager in 1970. He also serves as a director and secretary of the Rollman Manufacturing company.

Zercher joined SICO in 1956. He has served in the data processing, burner, and sales departments. He has been retail sales manager and assistant general sales manager. He also is a director of the Modern Heat Council, as well as director, assistant treasurer and assistant secretary of the Rollman Manufacturing company.

Registration Dates Set for Kindergarten In Donegal District

Registration and testing for children entering kindergarten in the Donegal School district the fall of 1973 will be held on April 24, 25, 26 and 27. Children must be five years of age on or before the first day of school (September 5, 1973) to enter kindergarten.

Registration is by appointment. Each parent will be notified by letter by April 10, 11, or 12 of the appointment for his child. Parents not receiving an appointment should contact the nearest one of the following schools: Washington 653-1447 or Riverview 426-1561. Appointments are approximately forty-five minutes. Each child will be given an entrance test by personnel trained in administering the Gesell test.

Parents should take with them the following: (1) a birth certificate or notification from the state; and (2) a list of the child's immunization shots.

Parents of children entering grade one who have not attended kindergarten should contact the nearest school for an appointment to register their child for testing and placement. These children must be six years of age on or before the first day of school (September 5, 1973) to enter grade one.

Lancaster Catholic Hi To Give 'L'il Abner'

Friday evening, April 6, when the curtain rings up on Lancaster Catholic high school's production of 'L'il Abner,' the audience may have to contend with a limping Daisy Mae.

Monday morning, while performing show excerpts for the school, Daisy, played by Chris Glah, tripped in the dark during a scene change. Continuing in the tradition of "the show must go on," Chris finished the program and was, afterwards, taken to the hospital where she was found to have sustained an undisplaced fracture of her left foot.

Chris hobbled from the left to stage right, with crutches, during rehearsals this week but refused to carry the crutches on stage. She is determined that all must continue as planned.

The foot-stompin' hillbilly musical is due to hee-haw its way onto the L.C.H.S. stage Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

The show is under the direction of Miss Patricia Wallace with musical director Romayne Bridgett, choreographer Sheila Audet, orchestration: Joseph McCaskey, and student directors Patti Glick and Ann Warfel.

Balance in 'Snow Bank'

Mount Joy has, what you might say, a balance of $706.84 in the "snow bank."

That is how much money stands in the Mount Joy Snow Removal fund, now that it appears the "snow season" for the past winter is safely behind.

What has happened is that not one dollar was spent for snow removal during the winter season of 1972-'73 and all moneys collected have been added to the balance from the year before to make the $706.84.

George Ulrich, borough manager, who is treasurer of the fund, noted this week that $96.84 was in the fund as of January 1, 1973 and that $610 was received from businesses, individuals, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association.
