"Of This and That"

But the prices! They ranged from $10,500 for a two-year-old used, smaller vehicle, to $30,000 for a 30-foot deluxe model! After we had checked them out, we could see why people WANT them in every-growing numbers, but we could hardly understand the affluence that would make it possible for so many people to HAVE them! And it would seem they pay quite a premium for not having to "pull something!"

We decided our 13-year-old Airstream travel trailer is pretty nice—and went across town and bought a pair of bicycles!

The bicycles have none of the glamour of a motor home, but they are down-to-earth "recreational vehicles," with a lot of good exercise and fresh air built in!

So now we have joined the ever-growing ranks of those who are re-discovering the fun of a leisurely ride through the countryside, with plenty of time to listen to the birds, pick roadside flowers or stop to chat with a farmer or fellow bicyclist.

WATER WELL

an aborted drilling try along the Union School road, and another unsatisfactory beginning on the present site just a few feet from the spot which appears to be successful.

If all reports are satisfactory, the authority then faces numerous decisions as to the harnessing and development of the well for connection to the water distribution system.

The average porcupine has about 30,000 quills.
