NANCY NEWCOMER

On Sunday, Sept. 16, the neighbors of the 200 block of Pinkerton Road held their first annual Block Picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruhl.

These people attended: Mrs. Catherine Bennett, Mrs. Myrtle Fry, Miss Helen Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Herr, Mrs. Ward Halter and son Jim, Mr. and Mrs. John Charles, Miss Betty Charles and Margaret Mackison, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Klemer and daughter Jenny, Robert Waltz and Miss Doris Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. John Ebersole and daughters Donna, Melody and Pam, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Long and Adie McComb, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruhl and children, Becky, Jon, "Sugar" and Lisa. Newcomers within the last year include the Klemer family, Mr. and Mrs. Long and Sadie McComb will be moving into their newly-built home in the near future. Mrs. Klemer was winner of the door prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sentz, Donegal Springs road, entertained with a family picnic Saturday evening, Sept. 15, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hofstetter and children, David, Kenneth and Doris, who will be leaving soon to serve at the Brethren-in-Christ mission in Bloomfield, New Mexico.

Those attending, in addition to the honor guests and the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wilkins of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Roanld Keener and daughter Stephanie, Rheems; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sentz, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sentz of Mount Joy; Mr. and Mrs. Seth J. Sentz of Hellam RD; and Mr. and Mrs. Doanld Mooney and children, Amy, Lisa and Eddie of Shippensburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Diefenderfer, Bruce Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barris of Maytown were among those who returned, Sept. 12 from a 10-day bus trip to Detroit, Chicago and other points of interest in the Midwest.

In Detroit the group visited Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum. They went on to Mackinac Island, crossed the Straits of Mackinac bridge, and spent some time at "The Soo" in northern Michigan, where the world-famous locks are located. After a four-hour boat trip across Lake Michigan, they visited Milwaukee. In Chicago they took a night-time look at "The Windy City" from atop the new skyscraper. The Prudential Building, shopped at Marshall Fields department store, and had dinner and lodging at the renowned Bismarck Hotel.

Is it possible that there are more catacombs in the area than the ones immediately unner The Catacombs?

Recently, while preparing to erect new girders at the Lancaster Leaf Tobacco warehouse it was discovered that there are some subterranean rooms under at least a portion of that building.

Two rooms have been discovered and no one has learned that there are not others.

Now, the question revolves around whether the ones at the old malt house connect with those under the old Central Hotel.

Henry Gingrich, who is the major owner of the Central House, went exploring in the newly-found caverns but was not able to be sure about any connecting rooms or passageways.

However, during the time of the big fire this past summer, when tons and tons of water were poured onto the blazing tobacco warehouse, water was discovered seeping into the Central Hotel and Catacombs underground chambers. Normally, they are dry.
