

THE Mayor Reports

The following report was given the Mount Joy Borough Council Monday night, March 11, by Mayor James A. Gingrich.

The month of February was a productive month for the borough.

Councilmen James Madara and James Heisey and Police Chief J. Bruce Kline and myself attended a county curfew meeting on Feb. 27, in Lancaster. We came a little closer on uniform law. So far, the group that was present favors 10 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, and 12:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Age limit is the question whether it should be 17 and under or 18 and under. Later this month we will try to have another meeting. Something to think about.....

I have suggested to the Public Work Committee about making Apple Alley a one way street going west. If you are not familiar, which alley it is, it is the one just north of Main street from Jacob to Manheim St. I would suggest that anyone with an opinion notify me -- all suggestions accepted.

Ray N. Wiley Sr. Featured Speaker

Ray N. Wiley, Sr., senior member of the Ray N. Wiley Agency, West Main street, was a featured speaker in San Francisco on Tuesday, March 19, at the 29th midyear meeting of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Agents.

He discussed the techniques for selling specialized commercial coverages that have helped him qualify for NAMIA's Insurance Fire Mark Society, an organization of top producers in the property and casualty field. The session was attended by nearly 600 agents present at the convention.

Wiley is a past president of the Tri State Mutual Agents Association, a regional affiliate of NAMIA, an organization of 21,000 independent insurance agents who sell primarily property and casualty insurance.

Spring clean up... I would like to take a little of your time to suggest about Spring clean up. First, let's try and clean up around our properties. Lets be proud that we are from Mount Joy.

Abandoned autos... We again moved abandoned autos from the borough. There are still quite a few left. I urge you, if this situation pertains to you, that they be moved as soon as possible.

Burning... There has been some citizens of this community calling and asking what can be done about burning. Here again, I suggest you notify me on your suggestions. I feel that the people of the borough should voice their opinions about this problem.

Last, let me add that I have been sitting in the borough office, to listen to citizens comments. So far I feel that it has been very constructive. I will be sitting in the borough office on Friday, March 15, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. I urge anyone who feels that he has a problem to come in.

Dramatic Play At St. Luke Church

The Caravan Players, an independent, interdenominational group which specializes in dramatic productions in the church will present Dorothy Williams' drama, "The Woman of Samaria" in St. Luke's Episcopal Church on Wednesday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Jacqueline Bairos portrays the woman scorned and berated by the members of her community because they cannot approve of, nor understand her life style. Through a chance meeting with Jesus, the woman undergoes a miraculous transformation; healing of the mind and spirit is as vital as a change in physical health. The role of her interviewer will be shared by Dave May and Eleanor Green.

An invitation is extended to the public to attend this drama which will be presented with a short service of worship.

Legion To Observe 55th Birthday

W.S. Ebersole Post 185 will celebrate the 55th Birthday of the American Legion with a Birthday dinner at the local Post Home on Sunday, March 17, at 3 p.m.

High ranking officials will be guests.

There will be entertainment for all. This is a family affair.

Awards will be given after the dinner.

Chamber Of Commerce Names New Officer State

Lester Hostetter was elected president of the Mount Joy Chamber of Commerce at the annual dinner meeting of the organization held Monday night, March 11, at Hostetter's.

Bernerd Grissinger was named vice-president; Joseph Shaeffer, secretary; and Andrew Reymmer, treasurer.

New directors elected for a three-year term include Elmer Ginder, Robert Kline, Ray Wiley, Jr., Gerald Alleman and Glen Kaylor. Grover Gouker, area director of the Dale-Carnegie Institute, was speaker for the evening. In his talk on "A is for Attitude," Mr. Gouker stressed the importance of the individual in determining what kind of a community, state, nation or world we are going to have.

"Don't say 'What a terrible mess the world is in,'" he told his listeners. "Say, instead, 'What can I do to make it better?'"

Master of ceremonies for the dinner meeting was Albert Newlin, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce.

School Takes 1974 Census Throughout Donegal District

Six people in the area have been named by the Donegal School district to take its annual census survey.

The census, which includes all residents living within the school district, began March 4 and each home will be visited.

The census takers include: Marilyn Baker and Lauralee Baker, Marietta borough; Roxanne Eisenhower and Margaret Nissley, Mount Joy borough; Benjamin Gainer, East Donegal township, and Rosalie Brandt, Mount Joy township. Census takers ask for names, birth dates, and grade and school, if the individual is attending school.

The census has no direct influence upon property assessments or rates of personal taxes, but is needed to secure an accurate count of residents within the district. The information will be data processed and files maintained which will be utilized by the schools to best serve the total population.

The project is to be completed by about May 1.

Lenten Service Series Continues

A special series of Wednesday night Lenten services continues into its fourth week at St. Mark's United Methodist Church.

On subsequent Wednesday evenings the messages will be entitled, "The Paradoxes of the Cross" and "The Drawing Power of the Cross." There is special music at each service, along with congregational participation in song and word. A nursery is provided for parents with small children.

The Lenten experiences around the Cross are open to the community.

When you pay your telephone bill, just what are you paying for?

Basically, you're paying our day-to-day operating expenses—wages, taxes, depreciation, office supplies plus related expenses incurred in providing service to you.

But your payments also help provide a return on money invested in the phone company—a very important part of "what you're paying for".

Why? Because there are literally thousands of companies competing for investment money. And we must be able to provide a competitive return if we hope to be successful in that intense competition.

It was investment money that bought the equipment now serving you, and investment money will buy the equipment and build the facilities necessary to keep pace with your expansion demands. Without it, telephone service would deteriorate.

So when you pay your telephone bill, you are paying for service today. But you're also helping us guarantee there will be service tomorrow.
