Dear Fellow Republican:

Never has your vote been more important than it will be during the upcoming primary election.

Your voice is needed in selecting the candidates and issues which will mold the future of our nation, state and community. Take the time on May 21 to vote . . . and when you do, consider the excellent slate of candidates endorsed by the Lancaster County Republican Committee.

The ticket is headed by Drew Lewis, candidate for Governor and a man of integrity and ability who can turn Milton Shapp out of office and get things going in Pennsylvania once again.

Lewis is joined on the ticket by Congressman Ed Eshleman, our man in Washington and a man who is respected in the nation's capital as one of the most capable men there.

Incumbant Lancaster County Assemblymen Hill, Brandt, Gring, Miller, and Miller, Jr., together with Senators Hess and Manbeck represent one of the most effective and dedicated delegations in Harrisburg.

The future of our government depends on these men being elected. Please take the time on May 21 to show your support for them.
