DIG Needs $4,000; Plan Auction Aug. 28

Although only $4,000 short of the goal, Donegal high school still is digging for funds for a new, auxiliary gymnasium, now being constructed adjacent to the D.H.S. building.

The project, called DIG (Donegal Indians gymnasium), already has banked $16,106.13 since Spring.

Next fund-raising project is an auction scheduled for Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, at the storage shed, east of the school. With Auctioneer Abe Schaffner in charge, numerous surplus school items will be sold and the money will go to DIG.

There will be old school desks, chairs, tables and many other items, some of which came out of the old Marietta elementary school, Principal Donald Drenner, who is one of the main movers of DIG, said this week.

Any other items anyone may want to donate will be added to the sale. They may be left at the back of the school at the storage shed. Or, for heavy pieces (like old refrigerators), a call to Principal Drenner could arrange hauling.

To date, construction of the gymnasium, designed to take the pressure of use off the big D.H.S. gymnasium and provide added facilities, is moving along well, schoolmen said.

One of the last things to be done will be laying of the exterior bricks. Cost of that part is expected to be about $2,500.

Rev. Wayne Peck Is Guest Minister

A United Church of Christ minister who presently is serving as director of the 17-76 Achievement Fund for the Penn-Central Conference will be the preacher of the day at St. Mark's U.M. Church on Sunday, Aug. 25. The Rev. Wayne Peck, who resides at the Schock Presbyterian Home, will give the message at the 10:15 a.m. worship hour.

Rev. Peck is a minister's son. He received his junior and senior high school education in Louisville, Kentucky. His theological education was gained at Eden Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo., and he served posts as director of religious education and youth director in North Carolina and Philadelphia.

In his present job, Rev. Peck is working with 258 churches of the Penn-Central conference of the United Church of Christ in the promotion of the 17-76 Achievement Fund — a fund-raising project the goal of which is $17,000,000 for black colleges.

The community is invited to hear Rev. Peck. Guest soloist for the day will be Miss Marcia Strominger.

FOOTBALL

varsity squad — 10-11-12 grades.

Ten lettermen are expected to be suited for '74 season, including two experienced quarterbacks — Randy Richards and Allan Brooks. Also, there are a couple of challengers too. In the backfield will be Jeff Sheetz, who moved into the ball-handling department late last season.

Probably, the team will be somewhat heavier. The coaches expect the line to average about 160 pounds and the backs to average four pounds above '73.

In some spots, tenth graders may be worked into the lineup.

Ninth grade football hopefuls will report on Sept. 3, at 3 p.m., for equipment and practice. Frank Steller and Ken Strine will handle the junior high's and Tom Konas the 10th graders. Marshall Lytle will be trainer.

To raise funds for meals, the team members are selling pens (50c) with the '74 schedule imprinted and later will have football yearbooks.

Donegal Musicians At Band Camp

Donegal high school bandmen are attending annual Band Camp this week (Aug. 19-24) at Gettysburg college.

The band has been confirmed as a participant in the Gimbels Thanksgiving Day parade in Philadelphia on Nov. 28.

Some people believed that gold was begotten by the sun and that the heat of underground veins wholly burned everything they came into contact with, turning those substances into gold.

Summer

TRAVELERS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaeffer, Park Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams, Terrace Avenue, returned last week from a 17-day trip to Alaska.

They flew to Vancouver, British Columbia, and took a 5-day boat trip via the Inland Passage. They went still farther north on a narrow-gauge railroad on which it took them eight hours to go 110 miles, so steep were the inclines and so precarious was the territory. They visited Fairbanks, Dawson City, Anchorage, Mt.

McKinley state park, and took side trips to pan for gold and to see glaciers and icebergs.

In Dawson City, famous in the Gold Rush era, but now a ghost town in the process of being restored, they experienced the "midnight sun" and attended an old-time stage show complete with can-can dancers. Joe was called on stage and participated in a brief routine with the singing star of the show.

The travelers reported that prices are "sky high" for everything from sweet rolls to real estate in Alaska, and that the building of the oil pipeline is bringing people into the Far North by the thousands.

The local people flew home from Seattle, Wash.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor and their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. John Tomlinson and children of Bucks County, vacationed last week at Avalon, N.J.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert D. Kettering have just returned from a six-week vacation trip through the New England states and eastern Canada. They also visited with friends and relatives in northern and southern Indiana. They will be moving Aug. 27 to Harrisonburg, Va. where Rev. Kettering will be associate pastor and minister of music at the First Church of the Brethren.

Addresses National Meat Convention

John Henry Brubaker, Mount Joy R1, addressed the 35th National Convention of the American Association of Meat Processors this week in Las Vegas, on the topic "Hit the Sales Jackpot with Retail Frozen Meats."

Brubaker, who is owner-operator of Stonebridge Farm Butcher Shop, was selected for participation in the Convention program based on his extensive experience and background in this area.

AAMP is a 1,300-member trade association representing meat processors, food service operators, locker and freezer provisioners, hotel, restaurant and institution suppliers, packers, retailers, slaughterers, butchers, curers and their equipment and service suppliers.
