MOUNT JOY'S ONLY NEWSPAPER

TEN CENTS

By R. A. R.

Last week the Bulletin published a large-sized photo of K.T. Keller taken on the day, nearly 30 years ago, when he was honored by Mount Joy.

In the photo were many school children and we wondered out loud who they are. It didn't take long for John Day III to call to identify a gang of boys who, at the time, were about juniors in Mount Joy high school. They included Donald Martin, Ben Brown, Gerald Wilson (Sr.), John Miller, George McCue, Butch Kramer, Leroy Harple, Charles Drace and others.

These are the fellows who first brought outstanding basketball honors to the community.

'Of This and That'

by the editor's wife

Buzzards glided in the blue, blue sky. A crow called from a tree top. To the south and to the north stretched mountain ranges that looked endless. The bright, warm October sunshine turned the autumn foliage on the rugged hillsides into blankets of burnished gold, copper and maroon. No human being was visible for as far as the eye could see.

It was mid-morning on the Skyline Drive in Virginia's Shenandoah National Park.

From our vantage point on one of the many "overlooks" in the park we could see only trees, a glimpse of the winding Shenandoah River far below, and in the distance the white spire of a tiny church in the valley. What peace! What solitude! What magnificent beauty!

We drove 65 of the 105 miles of the fabulous Sky Line Drive. Not always were we so alone. At most of the overlooks, two or three cars would be parked, and people like us would be drinking in the loveliness of the panorama spread out below. They were very young people, middle-aged, and old. There were families;

Indians Nosed
Out By Solanco
In Fourth, 24-23

Donegal's Indians were victims of a "death bed" effort Saturday at Solanco and took a 24-23 squeeze-out defeat!

At the half the Tribe was in good shape with a 16-16 tie. In the third they moved ahead 23-16, and until the final two minutes looked like winners.

However, a 14-yard run put the Mules in a "win, lose or tie" position.

Gambling for a win on a center-eligible play for the two-point conversion, the hosts went into the 24-23 lead to finish the game.

The Indians worked the air ways for five of 15 attempts and 138 yards. Randy Richards tossed 12 for 81 yards and Al Brooks, three for 17.

Newt Kendig, however, was the ground gainer of the day for Donegal, carrying 20 times for 132 yards, averaging 6.6.

Offensively, Mike Carroll was awarded the headhunter honors for his blocking.

Defensively, Jeff Ruhl claimed the day's honors, with 14 tackles and three assists. Kendig had 10 and 4 and Randy Richards, 6 and 2.

Jeff Sheetz's toe was working well, including successes from the 22 for a field goal and two PAT's.

By quarters —
Donegal 10 6 7 0 - 23
Solanco 8 8 0 8 - 24

This week, the Indians will host Manheim Central for a 2 p.m. game on Saturday.

The Barons come to Donegal with a 4-0-2 record for the season, in league play. The Indians are 2-4-0.

BIRTHDAYS

George Reigle, Main street, observed his 84th birthday on Monday, Oct. 28.

Bandsmen
To Participate
In Big Parade

The Donegal high school marching band will participate in the 55th Annual Gimbels Thanksgiving Day Parade in Philadelphia, on Thursday, Nov. 28.

Band Director Glen N. Leib said the 134 member band, with 100 players, 20 marchers in the color guard and 14 majorettes, will march before over one-million people lining the streets of Philadelphia for the traditional parade.

One of the numbers the Donegal band will play will be the favorite, "Beginnings".

More than 25 different bands and marching groups will participate in this year's annual parade with television personality, Captain Kangaroo (Robert Keeshan), acting as grand marshal. The parade will include the floats and giant balloons that made it famous, and several Philadelphia-area sports and entertainment celebrities as passengers on the floats.

The 1½-hour parade will start at 10:15 a.m. at the Philadelphia Art Museum on the world-famous Benjamin Franklin Parkway, and ends

Chiques Church To Observe
15th Anniversary Sunday, Nov. 3

On Sunday, Nov. 3, at 10:30 a.m. the Chiques United Methodist church will observe its 15th birthday. Rev. Menno E. Good, who was the minister when the church was built, will be the guest preacher.

Rev. Good is a graduate of Lycoming college and Garrett Biblical Institute. Having served the Chiques U.M. Church for 10 years, he now is minister of the St. Mathew's U.M. Church, Valley Forge, where he has served for more than six years.

Rev. Woodrow W. Kern is the present minister of the church, and in his fifth year at the church. He was preceded by Rev. Charles D. Whittaker, who served two years.

The cornerstone of the present church was laid on June 7, 1959. The Service was led by Rev. J. Vincent Watchorn, then District Superintendent.

The parsonage was dedicated on Sept. 27. On Nov. 10, 1959, Bishop Fred Pierce Corson consecrated the new church.

The Chiques U.M. Church is the union of the Mount Joy and Salunga Methodist churches. In 1867 the two-story brick church was built in Mount Joy. The Sanctuary was not completed until 1881.

The Salunga Methodist church was completed on May 9, 1889. This congregation began in the large John F. Peifer family farm house, Salunga. Mr. Peifer donated the site for the Salunga Church. Stone from his quarry was used for the foundation. Carpenters donated several days of free labor, and the church became a reality.

In 1892 the Pennsylvania Railroad planned to relocate its line so that the tracks would have gone down the middle aisle of the church and through the pulpit. Hence in 1893, the Penns. R.R. Co. accomplished the difficult task of moving the church to its present location.

Presently, the goal of the Chiques United Methodist Church is to pay the present debt. Included in some future planning are a new organ; church steeple; enlarge the picnic area; steps leading from Fellowship Hall to the
