★ Letter To Editor ★

Dear Editor:

As a mother of two young sons who enjoyed immensely the movie "Dumbo" shown at Mount Joy's "Fun Night" last Thursday evening, I wish to thank the ones who made this treat possible. This was our first year of attending "Fun Night."

I do think, though, that next year's evening of fun night be easier to enjoy if more strictness is exercised. The shouting, rudeness, shining of flashlights, and general lack of respect shown on the part of some kids made it a little difficult for those of us who just wanted to quietly view the film. Perhaps the projectionist could stop the film until silence prevails. (I wonder if many parents today are even trying to teach their children to show respect for others around them.)

Nevertheless, thanks again to the group of people who made this film available and showed once again that Mount Joy is an exceptionally nice place to call "home".
