

Union Nat'l splits stock

Union National Mount Joy Bank held its annual shareholders meeting on Feb. 11, at 10:00 a.m. at its main office in Mount Joy. Ten Directors were elected to serve during 1975: Mervin S. Arnold, C. Bernard Grissinger, Carl R. Hallgren, Wilbur C. Hiestand, John H. Hoffman, Clyde H. Hottenstein, Robert P. McGinley, Martin S. Musser, Alvin J. Reist, Donald J. Wolgemuth.

The shareholders voted to split the banks stock 5 for 1. The par value will be reduced from $5.00 per share to $1.00 per share.

The new shares will be mailed to the shareholders on March 10, 1975. Each shareholder of record will receive four additional shares for each share they now hold.

The President reported that there were no changes in personnel during the year. The banks policy of management depth continues. Educational opportunities are open for all employees to continue their training as management feels this is important to keep a locally owned and operated bank alive and healthy.

Study made of local church

Mary Jean Kraybill, a former resident of Lancaster County, was awarded first place in Class II of the annual John Horsch Mennonite Church History Essay Contest for her 28-page paper, "Bosslers Mennonite Church and the TNT Plant Crisis of 1942: The Making of a Myth."

She is the daughter of Paul N. Kraybill, a former Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities executive who left the county to take a position in the Chicago area as general secretary of the Mennonite Church.

Miss Kraybill was a history major at EMC and ranked first in her 230-member graduating class last May.

Her research paper, completed last February for her "History Seminar" class at EMC, deals with the role of a Mennonite church near Elizabethtown in the successful effort to halt the construction of a munitions plant in that part of the country.

The EMC graduate is currently attending Associated didn't take too long to raise $4400 from the fines collected for speeding.

With that $4400 land was purchased for War Memorial Park.

Three problems had been solved by one idea: a memorial for soldiers was created, a playground was established for children, speeding through Marietta was stopped.

The idea for War Memorial Park is a good example of the genius of Dr. John Brown - an unusual combination of technical and scientific skill, business sagacity, and humanitarianism.

Donegal School District, including Marietta.

The first reaction of John Parker to receiving this additional revenue was as always - to give back to the citizens any surplus.

This was done by the Council, which voted to reduce the property tax in Marietta by three mills.

There aren't many governments these days that are reducing the taxes of their citizens.

But that is an example of what John L. Parker, Jr. means when he says a public official should do what is good for the citizens.
