

Forrys hurt in fire

Chief Don Mayers of Maytown Fire Company reported that Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Forry, R. D. 1, Mount Joy, were seriously burned last Friday morning while lighting a wood fire in the basement of their home.

Mrs. Forry was burned most severely. At latest reports from St. Joseph's Hospital in Lancaster, she had been transferred to Hershey Medical Center for treatment.

Maytown Fire Company and the Mount Joy ambulance responded to the call. Property damage was small. The couple have two children aged six and three.

A fund for the Forrys has been started by their friends and neighbors who are aware of the emotional and financial distress the Forry family is facing. Union National Mount Joy Bank is acting as collector for contributions to the Forry Fund. Readers of the Bulletin are urged to send their contributions to the bank.

Marietta citizens who are 65 years of age or older have been exempted from paying the occupational tax by their borough council last Tuesday, February 11. Co-owners of one business who each earns more than $1000 a year must each pay an occupational tax.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

The speaker yesterday at the Mount Joy Rotary Club was Dr. Richard Seltzer, superintendent of schools in Columbia.

Dr. Seltzer's topic was "Trends in Education."

PATRICIA BUCHANAN

Patricia Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Buchanan, 124 W. Walnut Street, Marietta, was awarded a $200 Zimmerli Scholarship from Friends of Lock Haven State College, as an outstanding health and physical education student.

FIRE AT HORN RESIDENCE

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Horn, R. D. 1, Youngstown, Pa. Neighbors discovered the blaze and freed two dogs, but two pet cats died of suffocation. The Horns are currently housed in a trailer loaned by friends.

Harvey Horn was a former music instructor in the Marietta Public Schools and is a native of Lebanon. Their daughter, Harveen, is a resident of Delaware. A son, William, is a Lancaster resident.

4-H film on liters and meters

"Lets Go Metric," a film giving reasons why we should adopt the metric system, was shown at the regular meeting of the Central Lancaster County 4-H Tractor Club. The group meets at the Landis Brothers Equipment Service Shop, Manheim Pike, Lancaster, and invited interested persons to join the current study of "How to be safe while driving a tractor."

Anyone over eight years of age is welcome to the Tuesday night sessions at 7:30 p.m. Dudley Rohrer is instructor of the first year class; second and third year students will have additional teachers.

As if those mistakes were not enough, we proceeded to leave out a picture of Mrs. Vera Cox among the people addressing the BPW meeting, and instead labeled a picture of Mrs. John Zeller as Mrs. Thomas Cox. Our apologies to Messrs. Presto and Wilkinson and Mesdames Cox and Zeller.

DID YOU HEAR...

On Valentine Day several F.B.L.A. members went to the Schock Home in Mount Joy to deliver fruit. They made Valentine place cards for the guests at the home and a large arrangement of fruit for the table.

Slight error

Instead of showing Scott's picture, we inserted a picture of Dave Presto among the candidates for Sir Valentine.

Sir Valentines. No wonder. Dave is starring in the Junior Class Play at Donegal High School.

Ladies Aux. re-formed

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Maytown Fire Company was formed last Monday evening, February 10.

The following officers were elected: President, Lorraine Kanoff; Vice-President, Ruth Drager; Secretary, Virginia Patterson; Treasurer, Bertha Sprout; Ass't. Treasurer, Jane Manor.

The new organization invites other women to join. Meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month in the fire hall.
