out and repaired.
 By late Tuesday afternoon the motors had been re-installed, and the plant was running at 95% capacity.
 Everything working again, most of the citizens unaware of the major catastrophe that had been avoided - John Parker went to his home on Gay Street, lay down on the floor, and remained asleep there for twenty-four hours.

Mrs. Horton heads Guild

by Hazel Baker
 Mrs. Simeon Horton, 313 W. Donegal Street, Mount Joy, has assumed the presidency of the local Chapter of the Needlework Guild of America. This is her second stint in this position after an interlude of 12 years. She headed the group from 1945 to 1962. She also served as District Chairman until 1974.

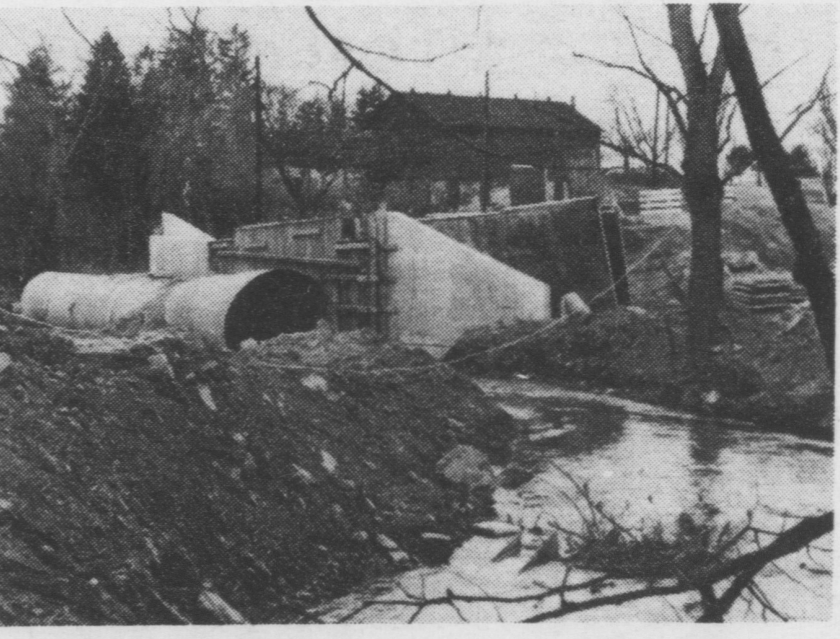

The Mount Joy chapter includes Marietta, Maytown, and rural areas.
 Mrs. Horton spends her free time during the year crocheting afghans for shut-ins and elderly persons in nursing homes.
 In her capacity as the local president of Needlework Guild of America she is on the look-out for new directors who in turn solicit 11 new members who are expected to contribute at least two new garments per year in lieu of dues.
 The slogan of the charitable organization is "one to wash and one to wear."
 An investigation committee, appointed by the president, makes a survey of persons worthy of receiving the garments each October. A distribution committee distributes the items after the "ingathering."
 Mrs. Horton stated, "Few organizations ask as little of their members and yet do as much good as the Needlework Guild."
 The first session of this group met in the home of the late Mrs. Clarence Schock in 1920. The National organization is 90 years old this year. As a past president repeated recently "NWG shares, sympathizes, and serves the problems of others and has put into practice the Golden Rule."
 Mrs. Horton, originally from Towanda, came to Mount Joy in 1933 with her husband, Simeon, who retired in January as manager of Mount Joy Farmers Cooperative. The couple's chief hobby is growing roses of which there are more than 150 bushes in their garden. Numerous prizes have been won by the Hortons from the Lancaster Men's Garden Club and the Elizabethtown Garden Club to which they both belong.
 Members of the St. Mark's Methodist Church, the Hortons are former proprietors of the Mount Joy Frozen Food Lockers. Mrs. Horton is also Past Matron of the Elizabethtown Chapter Order of the Eastern Star and a Charter member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.
