

Farm Women meet

Farm Women's Society No. 8 met at the home of Mrs. Arlene Witman, R. D. 2, Mount Joy, on March 15 at 2 p.m. Mrs. Grace Bixler, president, was in charge of the meeting. Several Easter songs were sung by the 25 members and three guests present. Mrs. Phyllis Endslo was in charge of devotions and gave Easter thoughts at this time. Mary Grace Martin read the minutes of the previous meeting and variety in Roll Call followed as the ladies mentioned the first signs of spring which they noticed in their vicinity.

The Treasurer's report was accepted as given by Mrs. Elizabeth Shuman.

Society No. 22 from Willow Street entertained 18 ladies from this Society, March 11th. They presented a unique mock wedding, piano music and a luncheon for the enjoyment of all.

Hot rod show

The wonderful world of show cars, street rods, classics, antiques and racing machines will come to life in the excitement of sparkling paint and glistening chrome for the 1st Annual World of Wheels Rod and Custom Auto Show. Families and especially the kids will be heading for the Hershey Convention Center, Friday, March 28, 7 to 11 p.m.; Saturday, March 29, and Sunday March 30, 1 to 11 p.m.

This year's headline features have gone "ape." That is, we are having the two apes, "Zira" and "Cornelius" from the TV series "Planet of the Apes." Both will be appearing in complete make-up and costume with autographed pictures. Another highlight of the show will be Playboy Magazine's 20th Anniversary

Weis store in Pottsville

Siegfried Weis, President of Weis Markets, Inc., Sunbury, Pennsylvania has announced the opening of the 90th store of the Central Pennsylvania Based Food Chain. The new 26,000 square foot superstore of the 70's will be located in the Fairlane Village Mall along Route 61 between Pottsville and St. Clair.

Weis Markets is a multi-faceted food company that developed from a single cash and carry grocery store in 1912 into a company that today owns and operates 90 supermarkets in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and New York, Sunbury Sea Food Company which distributes frozen seafood and grocery items to restaurants and institutions, and three Amity House restaurants are also an integral part of this progressive di-

The special speaker, Mrs. Lorenzo Tucci, a retired school teacher from Millersville, showed and described various sizes and shapes of crosses she has collected from different countries. These were made of different materials and are used as symbols for the crucifixion.

The deadline date to purchase ($6) tickets from Mrs. Elizabeth Shuman, Maytown, is April 15th. The Rally will be held April 30th at the Hershey Convention Center.

The attractive Easter decorations were seen in the Witman home and the refreshments were fixed to follow this theme. Hostesses Arlene Witman, Mary Sarver, Alice Myers, Georgianna Forney, served at this time.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Shuman, Maytown, April 19 at 2 p.m.

Double Centerfold Playmate, Nancy Cameron.

Over 200 displays and exhibits will include special features, famous championship show cars and internationally prominent sport of speed personalities. Competition will comprise more than 50 classes; Customs and Rods, Antiques and Classics, Dunebuggies, Street Rods, Motorcycles and Mini-bikes, Vans and Trucks, Race Cars and Drag Racing Machines.

To excite race fans is Don Schumacher's Stardust Vega Funnycar. For the sensualist, vans are showing the range of possibilities in transforming ordinary "econolines" into thickly carpeted, plushly interiorized pleasure rooms on wheels. Plus the most outstanding street machines rebuilt and restyled by local residents.

A nationally known leader in the food retailing industry, Weis Markets operates 1,968,000 square feet of retail space and is best known for its high standards of quality control, customer values, and customer service. During the past year, Weis Markets has adopted a new unique meat program which is called "TENDER CHEK." Under this program the company guarantees the beef that its customers purchase will be tender, without the use of chemical and mechanical tenderizers and has gone to great lengths to electronically test each side of meat for tenderness before it is processed in its Central Meat Processing Facility in Sunbury prior to being sold in its retail stores.

Letters

Dear Editor:

What can you say about a man who took a mere handful of people multiplied them from everywhere and gave them a feeling of belonging and believing? We at St. John's Episcopal Church were a lost people, only a few old faithful remained. Our Church had fallen from a prosperous one to merely existing. Many times you could count the attendance on your two hands. Yes, Father Red didn't have much to work with when he was given this "Mission Impossible." His task was to make St. John's a parish again able to support our own church and rectory. One by one we came back, this man gave where there was none, responsibility where needed, a sense of belonging and a renewed faith in our Lord. At first Father Red traveled from Dauphin to Marietta every week, leaving his home and family, while he met with the backbone of what was left of St. John's, our loyal vestry. Always during his long weekend he found time to visit any sick ones or shut-ins.

Father Red and his wife, Dorothea, now reside at St. John's rectory, however they maintain their home at Stoney Creek Valley, Dauphin, Pa. The father of three children, Father Red is a graduate of the University of Penna. school of dental medicine with a doctor of dental surgery degree. He practiced dentistry for over 20 years in Harrisburg and Mechanicsburg, and was very active in the Harrisburg dental society. In addition to being our full time rector he holds down a full time job as District director of seven counties in region II and Regional dental consultant region II of the Department of Health.

In 1958 he became an ordained Deacon in the Episcopal Church, he then served for 10 years as assistant to the Dean of St. Stephen's Episcopal Cathedral, Harrisburg, Pa. On November 5, 1972 he was ordained to Priesthood, and on May 1, 1974 he was appointed priest in charge at St. John's in Marietta.

We at St. John's take our hats off to this special man and would like you, the people of the community to know of him and welcome him and his family to this area.
