

Citizens thank Council

At a special meeting Mount Joy Borough Council adopted a new zoning ordinance last Wednesday night, April 23, after making various changes in the law to comply with citizens' wishes and criticisms of the original draft of the ordinance.

At the conclusion of the meeting a number of citizens who had been protesting against certain aspects of the original draft of the ordinance, complimented and thanked the Council for its consideration of their wishes.

Council made the following changes in the zoning ordinance:

Extended the Florin Heights low density development south to Bernhard Avenue; eliminated conditional and special uses from all low-density low residential areas;

made townhouses acceptable in high-density residential areas;

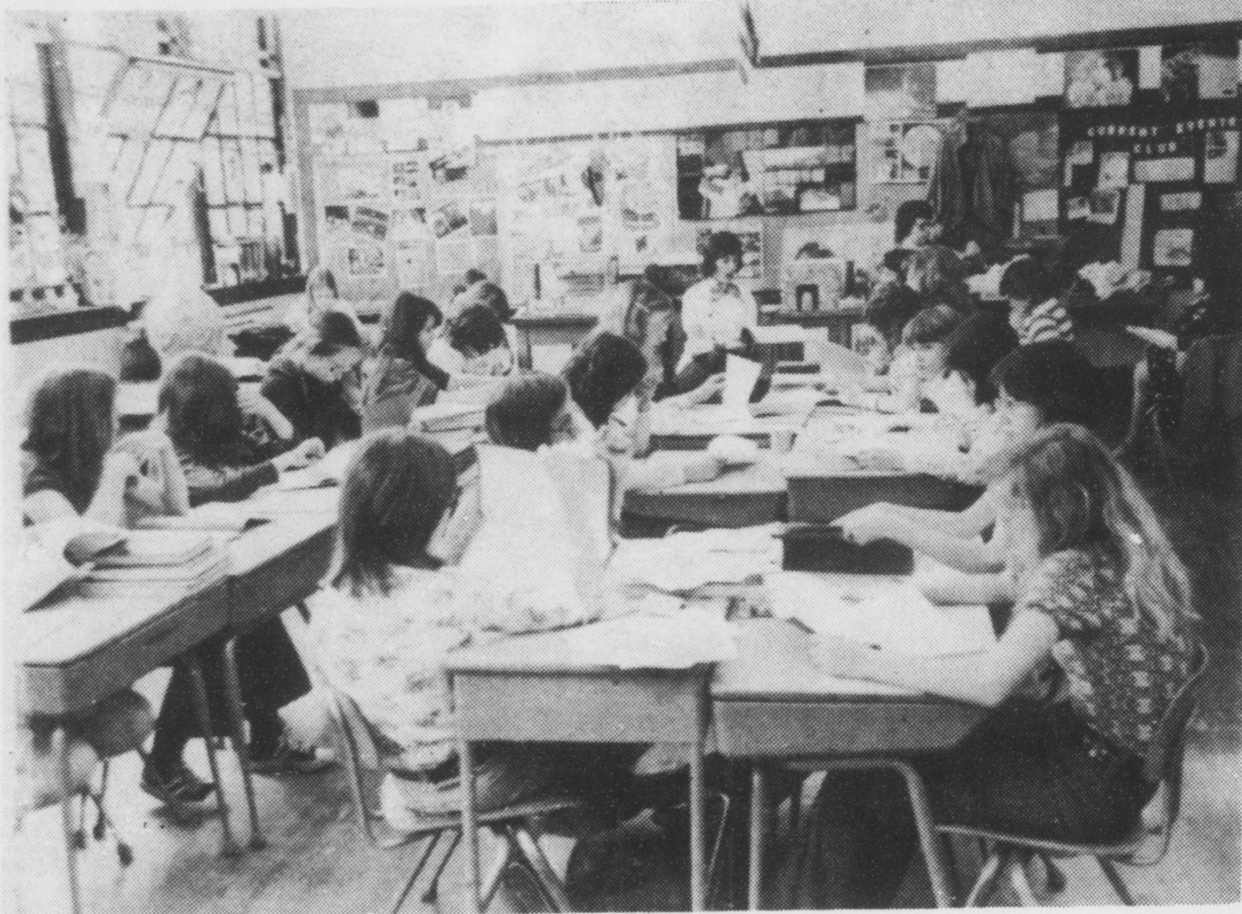

defined as low residential six blocks south of Richland Lane and S. Alley and west of Delta Street;

limited planned residential development in medium-density areas to no more than 10 per cent apartment dwellings and 20 per cent townhouses and condominiums.

Council also: reappointed borough manager Joseph Bateman as zoning hearing officer; appointed Albert J. Kleiner, James A. Madara, and Kenneth Gainer as members of the zoning hearing board; approved a fee scale for building permits, signs and fences, special zoning exceptions and amendments.

A petition was submitted to the Council from residents of Chocolate Avenue protesting the parking of a furniture van along their street.

Linda Boozer instructing baby-sitters

Course in baby-sitting

A very useful course in baby-sitting is being conducted for sixth graders by Mrs. Alethia White at Maytown Elementary School. The course was instituted by popular demand of the students. Each week an expert comes in and gives the baby-sitters in training, some useful pointers.

Last week Mrs. Linda Boozer, reading expert in the Donegal schools, told the baby-sitters about the personalities and interests of children not too much younger than themselves. Mrs. Boozer was full of useful suggestions for games and diversions for sitters.

Next week Mount Joy Fire Chief will instruct the baby-sitters in fire safety and what to do in case of possible emergencies.

The program is following the one set up by the Mount Joy Joyceettes.
