

Strube buys Mt. Joy building

William P. Strube, Inc., Marietta, an aircraft parts company, has purchased the five-story building formerly the Gerberich-Payne Co. shoe manufacturing plant.

Strube plans to use the building for storing and also for making aircraft parts and instruments.

Twenty new jobs will be created in two years by the new operation. Auctioneers said Strube paid $52,500 for the Building.

Two other Mount Joy properties were sold: a 3-story converted apartment at 250 West Main to Frank Zink of Mount Joy for $21,000 and a commercial lot on West Main to Donald J Yingst of Mount Joy R.D. 1 for $4500.

Warren Nissley plants a geranium in the Maytown cemetery for Rebecca Flick Saylor in honor of her grandfather, Walter D. Carpenter, a Civil War veteran.

Mt. Joy Police study okayed

Mount Joy Borough Council last week approved a plan to have the local police department evaluated by the state Department of Community Affairs. Council expects that the study will show how the department can be improved.

Councilman Charles Rice-dorf presented a first-quarter financial report to the Council, the first time such a report had been submitted.

Daniel C. Gohn was approved as Sewage Enforcement Officer.

A resolution was passed to charge a fee of $25 for final subdivision of less than 10 lots on improved streets.

Eli Wolgemuth asked for an answer to a petition presented in April requesting that a furniture van be prohibited from parking on Chocolate Avenue. Council replied that they had been informed by their attorney that they do not have the power to order the van to be moved. Nevertheless, they said they would write the owner of the van and ask him whether he would park it in his own driveway.

It was decided to ask the County Planning Commission to speed accelerate re-assessment in the Borough. It was announced that, so far, 60 questionnaires had been returned to the borough office, which had been sent out with the Borough newsletter, requesting citizens' opinions on Borough affairs.

A survey of alleys in the borough is planned. The survey will determine which ones are necessary for garbage removal, fire fighting, police service, etc. As a result of the survey, some alleys could be abandoned.

Police Chief Bruce Kline announced that people turning in false fire alarms will be prosecuted.

Mrs. Lucy Haines once more requested from Council that a pedestrian and bicycle bridge be erected over the Little Chiques Creek at the eastern end of town.

The Council told Mrs. Haines that the cooperation of the state, as well as Rapho Township would be required for action on her proposal.

They suggested that Mrs. Haines contact her state representative and the supervisors of Rapho Township.

During the Memorial Day Parade on May 24, traffic will be detoured around Mount Joy. Main Street from Angle Street to Route 283 will be closed to traffic.

School Board to present budget

A special meeting has been set by the Donegal School Board at 7 p.m., Thursday, May 22, in the High School library - at which to present the school budget for the coming year.

With the municipalities now taking an additional quarter of the one per cent earned income tax from the local schools, and with teachers asking for pay raises - the new budget will be of great significance to local residents. Informed sources have stated that this year's budget has been most difficult to devise.

In other action, the Donegal School Board last week voted:

- To approve the Lancaster Vo-Tech budget
- To place an order for math materials for the elementary schools;
- To select the Mount Joy Branch of National Central Bank as District Treasurer and Depository;

tory;

-To select Pollock and Groff and White as District Auditor firm;

-And to select Shirk, Reist, and and Buckwalter as District Solicitor;

Announcements were made that:

-The first Lancaster-Lebanon wrestling clinic will be held in the new DIG gym, August 11-15 for grades 6 through 9;

-Custodial jobs for qualified students are available this summer;

-Baccalaureate is planned for Sunday, June 1, at 7:45 p.m. in the high school auditorium; Rev. Ned Heeter will preach;

-High School Commencement will be at 6 p.m., Tue., June 3, on the high school athletic field. If it rains the ceremonies will be in the auditorium; tickets will be required if the program is indoors.
