Mount Joy Mennonite Church fixes up house for Viet family

Mount Joy Mennonites worked long hours last week to fix up a house for a Vietnamese refugee family.

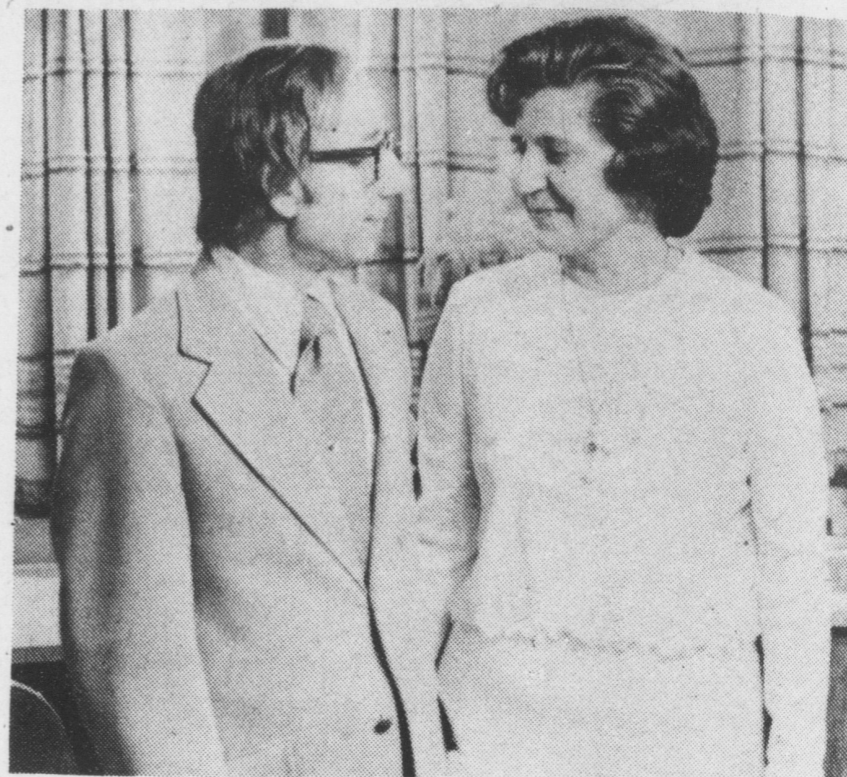

The house is located on Roy Sander's farm near Mount Joy. Mr. Sander agreed to charge a low rent in exchange for the free labor the Mennonite congregation put into repairing the large farm house. Mr. Sander also provided free paint and paper.

The youth group and

Sunday school classes started working Monday evening. By Saturday afternoon, the house was ready for Cuc Ngyuyn and 11 members of his family.

Jim Garber, who helped organize the project, said, "It took a lot of cooperation and candlelight to get the job done."

Mr. Cuc and his seventeen year old son will be employed by Wissler Motors, starting this week.

Sherks celebrate 25th; renew wedding vows

G. Millard Sherk and his wife, Olga, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary by being "married" again in the den of their Mount Joy home last Sunday.

Pastor Earl Martin, Jr., led the sacred rededication service. Mr. and Mrs. Sherk renewed their commitment to their wedding vows in prayer.

The service was attended by the couples' family.

After the rededication prayer the couple exchanged a kiss. Their family stood in a circle, holding hands, and the entire group sang, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

The ceremony also featured the singing of Adam Shaub.

In attendance was the immediate family; the twins, Sandra Lee (Mrs. Larry A. Johns) and Rhonda Lee (Mrs. Larry E. Groff); a daughter, Donna Colleen Sherk (at home); David Brian Sherk (at home); Glenn Warren Sherk (husband of the former Jane Enck); and James Calvin Sherk (husband of the former Kim Frey).

Also present were Pastor Martin's wife, Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Shaub.

Mulberry Street in Marietta changes its direction again

Marietta Borough Council last week reversed the direction of traffic on Mulberry Street for the second time in several months.

Originally traffic moved north on Mulberry from Market Street.

Then, because of traffic tie-ups when business was heavy at the Farmers First Bank's drive-in window, Council voted to change the direction of Mulberry traffic to south.

But this solution proved worse than the original problem. Traffic jams have been worse under the revised system. So, Council voted last night to have traffic go north on Mulberry again.

In other actions the Council reduced fees for the inspection of apartments from $20 to $10 and for rooming units from $10 to $5. People who have already paid the higher fees will have their money refunded.
