Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships such as unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30% of reported income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, the family should contact the school. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school.

Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete, and requests information needed to determine unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school meals. The information provided on the application will be confidential, and will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Long distance can save you time and money. It's personal and a lot more effective than correspondence.

Why not put long distance to work for you? It's a great way to do business.
