Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Bainbridge Fire Company presented a $300 check to the President of the Fire Company, William Mindorf, and to Harry Zink, chairman of the Ambulance Committee for equipment for the recently purchased ambulance. A flood at Beahm Jr. High

There was a minor flood in the basement of Beahm Junior High School in Mount Joy, Friday, shortly after noon.

About an inch of water covered the lowest part of the hall floors.

Plumbers shut off the main water supply, then opened the valves to sub-systems until the exact location of the leak was determined. Water was then turned on except for the leaking section.

Unfortunately, added pressure to the system burst a pipe in another section of the building.

Plumbers were at work all weekend to repair the system, so that school could open Monday.

Mt. Joy plans water system additions

Butcher and Singer, investment bankers, reported last week to the Mount Joy Boro Authority on plans for improving and adding to the boro water system.

It is planned to issue bonds for the improvements next May. Work is tentatively scheduled to begin next June.

No action was taken on a proposal to erect a stand-pipe in Rapho Township.

AMP, Inc. requested that the water main on South Jacob Street be enlarged. The authority is requesting that their engineer investigate the feasibility of a 12 inch pipe there, feeling that a larger pipe will eventually be necessary for future residential development. AMP and the boro would share costs.

A request from Huth Engineers asking for stand-by water service for Rheems was not granted at this time. The authority is providing new water sites, but wishes to insure their adequacy for Mount Joy before promising water to adjacent areas.

The East Donegal Sewer Authority will be informed of Mount Joy's ability to handle sewage from Donegal High School as well as from Donegal Heights.

The East Donegal Authority will be responsible for building and maintaining the lines.
