Letter to editor

Dear Editor:

Thank you for notifying us of our expiration date. We would not want to miss any issues of our good little newspaper. It is like a letter from home.

We grew up in Rowenna and looked longingly for some news from the village. It was most gratifying to see the pictures of Franklin School in 1911. I could identify almost all of the pupils.

Mr. Musser and I grew up around the turn of the century in Rowenna. We took our butter and eggs to Spangler's store in Marietta, so that trip was the big event of the week and if, perchance, once in a long while we went next door to Miss Hipple's Ice-cream parlor, that was the height of enjoyment. None has ever tasted better.

We were so delighted too, to read the sketch on Jack McDonald who is restoring Mr. Musser's grandfather's home and doing a splendid job.

Your feature articles are so well done. The Dr. Harter article awakened many memories, as did the Adam and Eve on the John Heistands, etc. We enjoyed them all. So keep up the good work and may every success attend your efforts.

(Mrs. H.P.) Barbara Musser

Achievment test scores available to parents

Several weeks ago the children in grade 2 - 6 were given achievement tests. A series of meetings have been set up to share the results of the test scores with parents.

The purpose of these meetings is to distribute to parents their child's individual scores, to explain the meaning of the scores, and to explain how the school uses the scores.

In order to accomodate the various working schedules of parents, daytime and evening meetings have been scheduled.

The meetings will be held in the cafeteria of each school according to the following schedule:

Grandview - Monday, November 3, 1975; 1:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Maytown - Monday, October 27, 1975; 1:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Riverview - Monday, October 27, 1975; 7:00 p.m. and Tuesday, October 28, 1975; 9:00 a.m.

Sieler - Tuesday, October

29, 1975; 7:00 p.m. and Wednesday, October 29, 1975; 1:30 p.m.

A parent who cannot attend the meeting scheduled for his child's school, is free to attend any of the other meetings. Parents attending a meeting in one of the other buildings, are asked to notify the counselor so his child's scores are available.

Gene Newcomer and Nancy Paden, Elementary Counselors, will be making the presentations.

Letters to editor

Dear Editor:

First, let me pay a compliment to the editors and staff of the Susquehanna Bulletin. We received a gift subscription to the Susquehanna Times about a year ago from my parents and have enjoyed its contents immensely. The news is very informative, the photographs are interesting and the articles are delightful. There is a special feeling of closeness when I read about "home" and all the memories of childhood, of growing up, and of school...

I would like to pay a tribute, in my small way, to a few of the teachers and mentors that I remember.

I first think of Eugene Saylor who was both my friend and my disciplinarian. I must have given him quite a few headaches, but now I remember how fair he always was and that he communicated with all of his small charges.

Mr. Yohn and Mr. Rupp wanted us to learn and thought of ingenious methods to motivate us. Miss Mischlich taught me a great deal about neatness and "if at first you don't succeed, keep trying until you do." These people, and others, prepared me for high school, where I learned much from many teachers.

Warren Hayman introduced me to a wonderful art of coordination and physical health that has continued to be beneficial. Emerson Stehman opened up my awareness of nature, its beauty and its reality that never ceases to amaze me. Don Staley made history very interesting and used many 'fun' projects to help put our past into perspective. Mary Llewellyn taught me to appreciate books for their beauty as well as their knowledge. Lily Martin guided me through some rough decision-making, and, with my family, pointed me in the right direction. If it were not for John W.W. Loose, the entire political scene would be an enigma to me—he made our political and historical processes understandable so that I can follow what is happening these days.

Not only will I always remember her saying "pusillanimous sycophant", but I make daily use of Catherine Zeller's vocabulary lists and readings of literature. She taught many things about literature—its beauty, its reality, its excitement, its enjoyment.

These people have certainly influenced my daily living...thank you, teachers and mentors.

Keep posters off tel. poles!

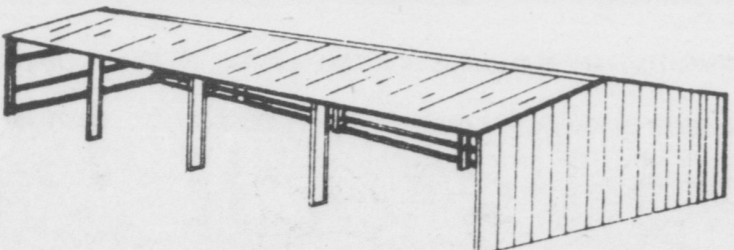

A lineman suffering a serious fall could be the result of that innocent poster placed on the utility pole.

With general elections approaching, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company requests that area political organizations and candidates refrain from attaching campaign materials to utility poles with metal fasteners.

"Small pieces of metal hidden in a wooden pole can deflect a lineman's climbing hook and cause him to fall," W. G. Seifried, PP&L's Columbia area manager said.

Since June, 1973, Pennsylvania Criminal Law has made it a summary offense to drive a nail or a tack or to attach any metal or hard substance to or into any pole of a public utility pole line.
