

Students pedal miles and miles for Donegal grads' scholarships

Students from Donegal schools spent Sunday afternoon riding bicycles over measured miles, to raise money for the DEA's scholarship fund. The money will be used to help Donegal grads through trade school or college.

Scene at the Sportsman's Farm last Sunday.

Teacher Eugene Funk powers up a hill with students in hot pursuit. Funk rode 66 miles in the bike hike. Sherri Kinsey (not shown) matched Mr. Funk mile for mile, but ended up with a total of only 65 miles because her home was closer to the track. Mileage to and from home was counted in the totals.

BPW hears Dr. Nancy Tischler on 'Business Women of the Bible'

Dr. Nancy Tischler, Professor of English at Penn State Capitol Campus, Middletown, and the mother of two sons, Eric 11 and Grant 7, was guest speaker for the Mount Joy Business and Professional Women's Club on Sunday morning at the Mount Joy Restaurant.

Women have always been leaders, content to be without being recognized as leaders. Miriam, Mary, and Martha were all leaders of their day. Today women, more than ever, are free to fulfill all their talents and needs.

Each member of the club will wear a gold "mum" in recognition of National Business and Professional Women's Week.

The event marked the local group's celebration of National Business and Professional Women's Week, October 19-25. Dr. Tischler spoke on "Biblical Business Women", a subject on which she is writing a book. The speaker read about the creation of woman from Genesis, explaining that the word "man" as used generically in the Bible, refers, of course, to humanity, both men and women. Woman is the complement of man, Dr. Tischler reminded her audience.

Members of the Public Relations Committee arranged the program. Mrs. Ben Horst Jr., chairman of the committee, introduced the speaker. Members of the committee include Mrs. William Barto, Mrs. Leslie Blake, Mrs. Richard Bromer, Miss Elsie Lefever, Mrs. Loren Rahe and Mrs. Roscoe Thome.

Mrs. Horst offered the Invocation, and Mrs. Lester Koder read the Scripture Lesson. A welcome was extended by the president, Mrs. John Fry.

Bulletin error

Last week, the Susquehanna Bulletin inaccurately reported the the Mount Joy Borough Council was considering selling the publicly owned Graybill House to the Graybill family.

The Council has never considered selling the house. However, Council will consider a motion to lease the house to the Graybills on a long term basis.

The motion was referred to the public works committee.
