

Missionary Conference

The Annual Missionary Convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 153 East High Street, Elizabethtown, will convene on Tuesday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m. continuing through Sunday, October 26.

Speaking at the first session will be Mrs. Rosalys Tyler, a veteran missionary who, with her husband, has given 30 years of ministry with a primitive tribe of Red Bobos in Mali Republic, West Africa. Appointed in 1945, they later crossed the frontier in 1951 into Upper Volta, where they built the mission station of Djibasso, in an area of grasslands approximately the size of Colorado. Her labors have included linguistics with its literacy, translation and production of Scriptures and literature; teaching in short-term Bible schools; advisory help to the infant church. Mrs. Tyler finds translation of the Scriptures in the Boomu language of Red Bobo people an exacting but extremely rewarding ministry. She will speak Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Tyler will also address both sessions of the Harrisburg Area Women's Missionary Prayer Fellowship on Thursday at 10:00 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Vonnice Gates, President of the Area WMPF will be Chairlady. These sessions are open to the ladies of the community who may wish to attend. The Harrisburg Area WMPF includes groups from seventeen Alliance churches in the vicinity of Harrisburg.

Speaking on Thursday and Friday evenings will be Rev. David Miller, a son of missionary parents who with his wife, has spent ten years in the Ecuadorian jungles of South America in contact with both the Quechua and Auca tribes. Appointed in 1965, where they worked directly in Christian Education among students of the Peter Fleming High School, a technical high school for young Ecuadorian Christians. The school was named in memory of Pete Fleming, one of the five martyred missionaries by Auca Indians in January 1956. Mr. Miller's last term was spent among the Auca Indians, and he will describe the results the Gospel has had among these people.

Coming to address the closing sessions of the Convention will be Dr. Edward Roffe, a veteran missionary appointed by the Christian and Missionary Alliance in 1929. Dr. Roffe was the Protestant missionary to establish residence as an expert linguist and in recent years was called upon many times to serve as an official interpreter for personnel on diplomatic and governmental missions. Dr. Roffe and his wife co-authored a two-volume course in the Lao language published by the American Council of Learned Societies, which is recognized as the core of the language course for those learning the Lao language. The printing of the newly translated text of the Lao New Testament entered the initial stages in early 1971 and has since been completed. Through the years, Dr. Roffe has filled a variety of missionary vocations, including those of administrator, evangelist, translator, missionary, pilot, teacher, author and advisor to the National church in Laos. Dr. Roffe will speak on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and at both Sunday sessions at 10:30 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

During the Convention, missionaries will accompany their addresses with colored picture slides. Curios, costumes, photographs, and other artifact of overseas origin and cultures will also be displayed. Convention music will include youth groups, the "Joy of Living" Choir, Ann Shiner, Mrs. Grace Smith, and Linda Flury. Pastor James Grumbine and the people of the Alliance church cordially invite the community to attend these challenging, informative missionary sessions.

Marietta J-C parade

Marietta Jaycees will hold their 18th annual Halloween Parade Oct. 29 at 7 p.m., beginning at Riverview School.

The parade will move out E. and W. Market Street to Center Square, where the judge's booth will be located.

In addition to the annual parade, the Marietta Jaycees are sponsoring a "Scream in the Dark" until Oct. 25 at the new Jaycee center off W. Market Street and Waterford Avenue.

Nightly tours will be conducted from 7 to 10 p.m. Donation is 50 cents per person, with proceeds going toward further renovations of the building.

Additional information on the parade and how to enter may be obtained from Don Pickle Jr., parade chairman, 32 W. Walnut St., Marietta.

4-H EXPO

Once again Lancaster County 4-H Clubs will sponsor a 4-H EXPO at Park City. 4-H leaders feel that last year's EXPO was quite a success and deserves a repeat.

Park City has reserved the dates of March 18-20th for EXPO. Exhibits will be judged and prize money awarded to the winners.

At this point 4-H leaders would like to know who is interested in participating. They would also welcome any suggestions the "Old Hands" from last year might have.
