Vica, a club organization from Mount Joy Vo-tech, sponsored an "Earth Day" at Mount Joy. On Wednesday, Nov. 5, students, armed with rakes, shovels, and wheelbarrows, went to Mount Joy Lincoln Cemetery and Mount Joy Cove to clean up these areas. It was a hard day of work but everybody enjoyed pitching in to keep these areas clean for the residents of Mount Joy. It was a worthwhile project and everybody was proud of what they had accomplished at these areas.

MJT people are concerned about sewer

This Monday a budget was proposed to the boro council of Mount Joy that would accomplish the unusual feat of increasing expenditures 4 per cent while at the same time reducing taxes by 1 mill.

An additional budget meeting is scheduled for November 25.

Ken Depoe reported to the Council the opposition of neighboring residents to a proposed shopping center near the Crossroads Church.

The names of Paris Sweigart, Jerry Sheetz, and David Deck have been proposed as members of the Mount Joy Authority.

Spending up, taxes down!

Concerned Citizens of Mount Joy Township have organized in opposition to the $4.8 million dollar sewage system being proposed for the area.

Two meetings of the new group have been held, a third is planned for Nov. 18 at the E-town H.S.

The group does not think the sewer will be useful. They also think its cost is exorbitant.
