Letter to editor

To the editor:

I want to express my thanks and congratulations to a dedicated group of students and faculty members of Donegal High School for an excellent Veteran's Day program on Tuesday, November 11. Each time I come in contact with the various musical and dramatic groups at the High School, I am amazed at their professionalism and sense of responsibility. It's too bad the student body as a whole doesn't also possess this same sense of responsibility. I was disheartened and embarrassed at the lack of respect shown to these hard working students and honored guests by the students in the audience. Have respect and good manners become "old fashioned" too?

To the students who planned and performed the show, let me say again, "Congratulations and keep up the good work. There are some of us who really do appreciate and enjoy your efforts."

Sincerely,
 Carlotta J. Zuch
