Donegal Hi basketball team looks like a winner this year

Local basketball philosophers expect the Donegal Indians team to win the Section III crown of the L-L Co. Basketball League. Indians' have returned seven varsity players from last years team, which compiled a 13-10 record.

Bob Barto, at 6'4" is back to the center position and is rated as probably the best defensive player in the league.

Kevin Miller, last season's top point producer is again at guard, and although hampered by a football injury is rounding into shape.

Mark McKercher and John Fellenbaum, both 6'2" forwards, are providing most of the scoring power for the Indians (who have averaged 76 points a game in pre-season play.)

Kris McCue, high scoring guard up from last year's Junior Varsity, has won the other starting position.

Coach Emil Swift is fortunate in also having a strong bench with Kevin Bradley, Kevin Milligan, and Zip Zimmerman, all 6'4", along with the sound basketball prowess of Rory Gallagher and Dave Weber.

In Section I Hempfield returned 4 varsity players from last seasons team and should be favored to cop that crown while Ephrata, last seasons L-L County Champions along with Cocalico are the favorites to annex the Section II crown.

Below is a summary of the pre-season games played so far by Section III teams:

	Total Points	Won-Lost
Donegal	457	2-2
Annville	234	2-2
Garden Spot	291	1-5
Norelco	371	1-5
Leb. Cath.	360	2-4
Pequea Val.	207	1-3
E-town	273	1-5
Elco	208	0-5

And below are the leading scorers for each team and average number of points scored per game thus far.

Donegal	Fellenbaum	22.0
Annville	Faiola	19.0
Gard. Spot	Coleman	8.5
Norelco	Batz	26.8
Leb. Cath.	Egan	14.0
Pequea V.	Stolzhus	19.0
E-town	Rhyn	11.6
Elco	Nolt	10.8

In Section II Ephrata, Lampeter-Strasburg, and Cocalico looked best in their pre-season games.

In Section III Hempfield has won four while losing none, and Penn Manor has won four and lost only one.
