PP&L news

Pennsylvania Power & Light Company recently mailed to its shareowners, employees, retirees, security analysts and others, a new 12-page publication called Quarterly Review.

The review provides in-depth financial statements, an analysis of the Company's last twelve months of operation and a text section detailing Where The PP&L Dollar Goes, and a discussion of the utility's fuel costs.

Robert R. Fortune, PP&L's financial vice president, said that "because of the general concern all of our customers have with the cost of electric service, and because there should be no mystery or lack of information about our financial position we are making the review available to anyone who will send us a written request. Just drop a note to our Information Services Department at PP&L's Allentown General Office, Two North Ninth Street, Allentown, Pa. 18101."

The 1976 budget for Borough of Mount Joy is summarized below. Anyone wishing to inspect the Budget in detail is welcome to do so 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Borough Offices Building, 21 East Main Street, Mount Joy, PA.
