Prof. Kurzenknabe will commence his Singing School in the Lecture room of the Presbyterian Church, this Monday evening. Ten cents per lesson.

The Ohio river is frozen so solid below Pittsburgh that teams cross upon it Fresh shad are selling in Harrisburg for 75 cents apiece.

"How does cider, made from frozen ap-ples answer for apple butter or vinegar?" is a question asked by a subscriber.

Samuel Smith, Esq., of this borough, has been appointed Mercantile Appraiser for 1877 by the county commissioners.

There are about two hundred persons cared for at the Cumberland county almshouse.

 \sim Over one hundred deer have been shot on the South Mountain during the season just closed.

"Are we as a Nation Retrograding Morally ?" is the question for debate by the Centre Literary Society next Tuesday evening.

The farm near Blue Ball that belonged to John Kell lately dec'd, had been sold to Mr. Wm. Weibley, of Tyrone twp., for $5.500.

Shippensburg merchants are closing their stores at 7 o'clock, P. M., in order to allow all an opportunity of attending the religious meetings.

Mr. Wm. Smeak, a Spring Garden township, York county, farmer had 100 chickens stolen from his premises in a single night.

The Fulton Republican says a black bear weighing over four hundred pounds was killed in Southampton township, Bedford county, a few days ago. In the fight he killed four large dogs.

Judge Henderson, of Lebanon county, has put township supervisors to work by deciding that it is their business to open drifted roads and put them in a fit condition for travel.

The arrival of a horse with a portion of a sleigh at Rinesmith's hotel on Tuesday last, suggested that some one was hurt. The broken sleigh proved to be the property of Dr. Cisna who was up-set, but not hurt.

The Mount Holly, Cumberland coun-ty, Mountain Echo, of last week says: "The Cumberland Valley railroad com-pany has already expended from $150,-000 to $200,000 to defeat the Harrisburg and Potomac railroad."

to that part of the world only. The question was decided in favor of the negative.

Two Wild Cats Shot.-A short time since, Mr. John Lay, while hunting in Henry's Valley accompanied by three dogs, treed a large catamount which he shot. A short distance from where he killed the first one his dogs tracked another which they shortly caught, and succeeded in killing it before Mr. Lay reached the place.

Mr. Lay is a successful hunter, having in addition to his wild cats, captured several foxes this winter.

John M'Naughton, of Juniata township, died the other day and on Tuesday night of last week some person with a greedy eye for plunder entered the late residence of the deceased, and ransacked it from top to bottom. By a simple arithmetical rule, nothing from nothing, nothing remains, and consequently the robbers were disappointed. The house was standing vacant at the time, Mrs. M'Naughton occupying one a few yards distant from the one in which her husband died .- News.

Oh, for a Slow Mail !-- Our mail facilities are in a condition to promote profanity. When you feel sure your daily paper is coming that is the time it misses, and daily papers two or three days old are not just what we most desire .--Some of our subscribers at the small offices between Newport and Altoona, complain about the arrival of THE T MES. They say under the " fast mail" arrangement the papers come on Thursday instead of Tuesday as formerly. Under these circumstances we all sigh for the days of slow mail, even a canal boat run regularly would be an improvement.

Mr. S. B. Taylor, who has been so long and favorably known to the merchants of our county as salesman for the firm of Wainwright & Co., has started the New Year by an upward step. We notice that he has been admitted as a partner in that firm. We congratulate our friend on his admittance to such an old and substantial house. The firm is also fortunate in securing the addition of a young man of so much energy and one so generally popular, as Mr. Taylor. We hope both sugar and coffee will now be sold at lower prices, and we have no doubt but what Sam will quote prices as low as the lowest.

Two Accidents .- On Saturday morning last, Wm. Beasom who is employed at the lumber yard of Messrs. W. R. S. Cook & Co., in Newport, had the end of the third finger on his right hand nearly torn off by a heavy piece of lum ber falling on it.

At about 9 o'clock on the same morning, Norman Woods, another employee in the same yard, while playfully boxing with a fellow workman, tripped and fell, striking his head against a log on the mill-carriage, causing an injury that may prove fatal. At noon-the hour our informant wrote,-the young man was still unconscious, and Dr. Orris was not able to state what injury the brain had received, although the outer bone is not fractured. Mr. Cook has been engaged in the lumber business for nearly home in this city, his trip ending here. Deceased was about thirty-two years of age, and leaves a wife and one child .-Patriot of the 9th inst.

Bridges on the Pennsylvania Railroad .-The railroad horror at Ashtabula, Ohio, recently, has awakened some thought upon the security of bridges spanning the river and ravines over which our great thoroughfares pass. "The plan adopted by the Pennsylvania Railroad is, after all," said Mr. Wilson, engineer of bridges and buildings on that road, to a Philadelphia Times reporter, "the safest and best. The bridges and buildings, needed on the road are planned in the minutest particular in the engineer's office of the company, even down to the smallest bolt and nut. Then proposals are invited from bridge-builders or companies at so much per pound, and the company or party getting the contract is compelled to adhere strictly to the plans and specifications. Formerly, and on many other roads to-day, proposals were invited for the building of a bridge at so much a lineal foot upon meagre specifications, each competing company furnishing its own plan. The result is that strength has been often sacrificed to cheapness. Then, on the Pennsylvania road there is a spring and fall inspection of every bridge on the road. I visit them all myself, and descend into the structure, carefully inspecting every portion of the bridge, and every defect, where one exists, is at once thoroughly remedied."

²⁴ Was the Noahacian Deluge Univer-sal ?" This question was debated before a crowded audience at the Centre School a crowded addience at the Centre School house last Tuesday evening by H. H. McKeehan in the Affirmative, and Geo. Barnett and James G. Nellson in the Negative. Mr. Barnett had his Bible along containing a map of the country around Mount Ararat from which he contended that the deluge was confined

25 years and these are the first accidents worth reporting that ever happened to any of his hands.

P. S. Since the above was in type we learn that the young man died at 9 P. M., on Saturday night. An inquest is being held to-day, (Monday).

Shocking Accident.-- A correspondent at Union Deposit, Dauphin county, under date of January 5th, 1877, says: " An accident of a very painful nature took place on Friday at Kiefer's mills, near this place. While a son of Mr. George Kiefer was engaged in cutting corn fodder by horse power, assisted by a smaller brother, acting as driver of the team, he got his hand into the cutter and it was drawn through, lacerating and breaking it as far as the elbow. A sudden jar threw the belting out of place else the lad would have had his arm drawn in as far as the shoulder and perhaps lost his life. The arm was amputated by Dr. Keller, of Union Deposit, and Blough, of Elizabethtown. The lad is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances."

Fatal Railroad Accident.-About three o'clock yesterday morning, Horace Clinton, who lived near the round house, this city, was instantly killed near the Lochiel iron works. He was on the thirteenth extra freight train west, and it is supposed that while he was applying the brake on a box car the wheel was separated from the brake rig-
