Brief Items.

The Concert in the aid of the band will be held on Tuesday evening of this week. The ladies have it in hand.

Mr. George B. Arnold came into town this (Monday) morning, with a live fox which he had just captured.

Mr. W. W. Wright of Howe twp., was kicked by a horse on Monday of last week. His injuries were not serious

Now crocks, jugs, &c., will have to come right up to the mark, as our friend Michael Miller, of the Pottery firm, was elected last week as a Justice of the Peace.

Mrs. David Selders of Miller twp., fell and broke her arm on Friday evening aweek. Dr. Orris set the broken limb and the patient is improving rapidly.

Some hoggish thief made a heavy draw on the smokehouse belonging to Mr. Abram Good, in Buffalo twp., a few nights since. He carried away about 300 pounds of meat.

A young man named Snyder, a resi-dent of New Franklin, Franklin coun-ty, recently committed suicide by shoot-ing. No cause for the deed is known.

Mr. John Dum has sold out his inter-est in the White Hall Soldiers' Orphans' School to Major J. A. Moore the former principal of that school. The change is to take effect on the 1st of March.

About 5 inches of snow fell on Satur-day preceeded and followed by rain, which puts the roads into bad condition. We shall not believe in any ground hog theory after this except the kind of "ground hog" called sausage.

A lecture will be delivered in the Pres-byterian church in Duncannon Wednes-day evening, Feb., 28th by Wallace Bruce of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., of Duncan-non non.

Going West.-Quite a number of young men from this county are about leaving for the west. A party of about a dezen started from Newport Station on Monday morning.

> Fire in Millerstown .- On Sunday night fire was discovered in the Juniata Valley House at Millerstown. Before the flames were extinguished a hole had been burned from cellar to roof up the stairway. Much of the furniture was damaged by removal. Unfortunately a barrel of whiskey was saved from the Pennsylvania Annual Conference of the United Brethren in Christ.

This conference closed its 97th annual session at Baltimore, Md., Feb. 13, 1877, after a session of seven days. The conference was presided over by Bishops Dickson and Giossbrenner.

Previous to adjournment the Stationing Committee presented the following report on fields of labor for the ensuing year :

The Liverpool Band.-A correspondent of The News thus humorously compliments the Liverpool band:

"We have also organized a brass band Yes, sir, a living, moving brass band. I am not one of them, but would be if grub Yes, sir, a living, moving brass band. I am not one of them, but would be if grub was not so scarce. It must require a man with a good appetite to blow one of those horns, and it seems to increase as you blow, for I have often noticed that yeur fellows had a particular appetite for raspberry syrup, lemonade and stone fencing. Stone fencing is a great drink, it makes a fellow hilarious: I don't know whether it is the stone or fencing part, and I am not obliged to tell. At any rate a brass band doesn't suit a poor man. Ours is a new band. They play four good tunes—"A charge to keep I have;" "Tilden's funeral march;" "Dear mother I've come home to die," and "Hold the Fort." The last two they play as a "medley." I think that is what they call it. I know nothing of music. What strange feelings come over the sinner? How solemn and scared everything around appears to be, animals as well as humans, when they play the first part of it, and when they strike on the second, as only they can, how sudden the transition! What a magnetic thrill courses' through your veins. Your hair is prependicular: your body is headless. T've passed through it; I know all about it. They are advancing admirably. They will shortly announce themselves as preparare advancing admirably. They will shortly announce themselves as prepar-ed to fill any and all funeral and Sabbath school engagements.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week : Our Special Court has been occupied HISTORY OF A PICTURE.

Two of the most celebrated artists the world has ever known dwelt in the same city. One delighted in delineating beauty city. One delighted in delineating beauty in all its graces of tint, form, and motion. His portraits were instinct with the charm His portraits were instinct with the charm of physical vigor. The graceful, half-voluptuous outline of form and feature harmonized with delicately blended tints. On his canvas, the homellest faces had an almost irresistible charm. The other found pleasure only in depicting weird and gloomy subjects. Above all, did he excel in painting the portraits of the dying. The agonizing death-throe, the ghastly face and form, were all depicted with marvelous fidelity. There existed between these artists the most intense dislike. At length this dislike culminated. The beauty-loving artist had been engaged in painting loving artist had been engaged in painting the portrait of a beautiful woman. Conthe portrait of a beautiful woman. Con-noisseurs pronounced it the most wonderful piece of art that had ever been produced. His brother artist was jealous of his fame and sought revenge. By bribing the keeper of the studio he gained access to the pic-ture each night. At first he was content to only deaden the brilliancy of the com-plexion and eyes, efface the bloom from cheek and lip and paint a shadow on either cheek. Later, his strokes grew bolder and freer, and one morning the artist awoke to find the entire outline of the portrait changed. He could scarcely recognize in the emaciated form and haggard coun-tenance the glowing conception he had tenance the glowing conception he had embodied. The pallid face and expression-less eyes he had attributed to a lack of genuineness in his materials; but when the outlines were changed he suspected the cause and indignantly dismissed the keeper. What the revengeful artist marred by a few rapid strokes of his skillful brush was only restored by years of patient industry. Reader, need we give the name of artists, Health, who paints the flowers and 'grassy description of the the burner form di Health, who paints the flowers and "grassy carpet" no less than the human form di-vine,—Disease, the dreaded artist who revels among the ruins both of nature and humanity,—and Carelesaness, the keeper to whom Health often intrust his portraits. And is it not the beauty of woman, the most admired of all the works which adorn the studio of Health, that Disease oftenest seeks to mar? The slightest stroke of his brush upon the delicate organization leaves an imprint that requires much skill and patience to efface. Restoration must be prompt. Carelessness must be dismissed. Let suffering women heed the warning ere Disease has marred their chief beauty— Health—beyond reparation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been used by thousands of these sufferers, and they are unanimous in their praise of its excellence. If you would be transformed from the pallid, nervous invalid into a happy, vigor-ous woman tre it ous woman, try it.

Lecture .- Rev. T. S. Johnson, D. D. of Lebanon, will deliver his celebrated lecture on " Love, Courtship, and Marriage," in the Court House, in Bloomfield, on Tuesday evening, the 6th of March. The proceeds to go towards liquidating a debt resting upon the Reformed Sunday School. The lecture is highly spoken of by Press and Clergymen. Admission 20 cents, children half price. Tickets to be had at the stores and Post Office.

Better than Wheat .- Mr. James Whitmer of Liverpool twp., had a crop last year of 1,500 bushels of potatoes, for which he received about $1,200. This crop was raised from between ten and eleven acres. Had he put the same quantity of ground into wheat he would have realized perhaps $225, but probably not as much, making a clear gain of nearly a thousand dollars over and above what a crop of wheat would have brought him.

School Accounts .- As it is approaching the time when school accounts shall be made public we make the following quotations from the law approved May 1st, 1876. The law will be found on page 91 general laws of that year.

The statement shall be "spread on the minutes of the board of directors, and in a condensed but fully classified form published by said board in not less than ten written or printed hand bills to be put up in the most public places in the district, or if deemed preferable in the two newspapers of the county having the largest cinculation among the citizens interested; and for any neglect or failure to perform the duties enjoined by this act, the officers named therein, shall be considered guilty of misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding $500, to be paid into the school fund of the district in which the offence was committed," for the last eight days in the restrict of the suit of Ege heirs vs. the Mt. Holly Paper Company and their lessees. Yes-terday morning the jury, after a tedious sitting, rendered a verdict for the plaint-iffs for $17,942.50. This is for ore and limber taken form the lands. r the last eight days in the re-trial of timber taken from the lands.

Another unsuccessful attempt was Another unsuccessful attempt was made on Tuesday night to fire the stable attached to the "Noaker House" by lighting a straw brand and placing it under the door on the Bedford street side; but fortunately it did not burn. Mr. D. B. Diller, the clerk at the hotel. has the brand in his possession and which is half-burned. Of course it was the work of "fire-bugs."

Mrs. Susan Walters, the cook at the Mansion House, who was horribly burned by her clothes taking fire, on Sunday a week, died at the residence of her a week, died at the residence of her father, on East Pomfret street, at 12 o'clock on Tuesday night. She suffered intensely, and all efforts of physicians and friends were of no avail.

Mr. S. Kingsbury, of Penn twp., whose house was destroyed by fire last week, lost all his bedding, clothing, three bar-rels of flour, twenty barrels of corn, and all the furniture. Collections are being made in the neighborhood for his bene-fit. The Messrs. Ahl have kindly offer-ed him timber to erect a new house.

ed him timber to erect a new house. On last Friday, when Mr. Wm. Shroy-er, took a large stone out of its place in the quarry on the farm of Mr. J. Miller Tritt, in Penn twp., the bones of a hu-man being were found underneath. How long these bones were there no one knows, as a very large and decayed stump was taken off the spot the day previous. The bodes are very much de-cayed, and it is a matter of conjecture how the bones got there, and whether they belonged to an Indian or a white man.—Volunteer.
