Brief Items.

Bloomfield Academy.—New term opens April 9th. Rev. J. Edgar, Principal.

Notes coming due on April 1st will have to be paid on March 31st this year, as the 1st comes on Sunday.

The farmers of this section of the state have decided not to sow any oats in

Have the children get the hen at work that lays the fancy colored eggs, for Easter will be on hand next Sunday.

The roads were alive with sleds on Tuesday last, taking advantage of prob-ably the last sledding of the season.

Wheatfield twp., has one school in which some of the citizens complain that "courting" receives more attention than any other study.

On Friday noon last, the thermometer registered 82 degrees above Zero, and on Monday previous it was down to 3 de-grees below, a difference of 85 degrees.

Mr. Henry Bentzel, while fishing on Saturday, slipped and fell so as to throw his shoulder out of joint. A companion who was with him pulled it in again after considerable trouble.

A Madison twp.; man a few mornings since found one of his sheep lying as he thought dead. He at once commenced to pull the wool off, and had it nearly half off when the sheep gave a "baa" and sprang up. And now the animal goes around with a blanket fastened on it to take the place of the missing wool.

Last week as Mr. James M. Dunlap, of Mifflin township, Cumberland co., was going to a neighbor's house, a flock of wild geese, twenty is number, alighted in a field near by. He at once procured a rifle and at a distance of 460 feet killed two of them with one shot. Who can

The barn of Joseph Meiser, in Chapman township, Snyder county, was totally destroyed by fire on the morning of the 13th inst. All the stock, excepting a calf, was saved. A variety of farming utensits was also destroyed including two threshing machines. Loss not estimated, insurance $900.

A man named John Booth, a wood chopper for the Mont Alto Works, Franklin county, was recently so unfortunate as to have his leg broken by a falling tree. He lay pinned down by the tree for nearly an hour, before his comrades heard his cries of distress, and came to his assistance, and then had to be carried five miles to his home.

Jail Items .- Peter Smith as a forger was not a success, and was therefore placed in jail. As an "escapist" from jail heis a success and has so for eluded Sheriff Williamson's efforts to entice him again to his kind care.

Wm. H. Harman of Greenwood was placed in jail on charge of whipping his sister, which liberty the sister objected to.

Considerable feeling seems to exist in Spring twp., judging by a correspondence from there, regarding a jolification held at Oak Grove on Monday night of last week, while a person lay very ill in the same house.

Perhaps the affair was out of place, but the remarks of our correspondent regarding pension money and his other criticisms are not just the thing for publication.

The Mail Routes .- The contracts for carrying the U. S. mails, by stage, throughout Pennsylvania, have been awarded to the lowest bidders, and the route between Newport and Germantown, and now owned by Z. Rice, was secured by W. L. Argue, of Washington, D. C. Joseph A. Rice succeeded in bidding for the Carlisle and Shippensburg route, Samuel L. Rice, the Ickesburg to Newport, and Scott Boden the Ickesburg to Millerstown route.

The Messrs. Rices bid on some thirty odd routes throughout the state, and will continue to run their daily line between Newport and New Germantown after the new incumbents have taken possession.

Mean Trick .- On Friday the 20th inst., Smiley, an interesting little son of Mr. John Dunbar, of Port Royal came very near losing the sight of his eyes by having a lot of coal dirt and cinder thrown into them by another boy at Beaver's blacksmith shop in that place. It was feared that he would never see the light of day again, as he was deprived of his sight from Friday until Wednesday, during which time he suffered excruciating pain, but he is now gradually regaining it, and strong hopes are entertained that his sight will be fully restored.

Connubial.—The Carlisle Volunteer says: On Friday last, Justice of the Peace Zinn, of the Second ward, united, in the holy bonds of matrimony, Mr. John Gallagher and Miss Martha Bentzell, both of Perry county. The Justice called in as witnesses Lazarus Minich, John A. Floyd, W. L. Spottswood, Fred'k Babner, and Jno. McCarter. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the happy couple-both elderly folks by the way-took their departure, and, for all we know to the contrary, they are now comfortably domiciled in the land of hoop-poles and hedgehogs.

An Unfortunate Affair .- On Saturday afternoon a man named Crist Smith and a boy named Charles Kitner got into a dispute regarding a horse, on the square in this borough. After some words had passed, Smith threatened to "lick" the boy and came towards the boy for that purpose. Kitner warned him that if he touched him he would strike him with a shovel he had in his hands and which he raised to be ready to use, and then commenced to back up on to the side walk. Smith followed him for several yards and was about to grab him by the throat when Kitner brought down the shovel on his head with great force. Instead of striking him with the back of the shovel as he evidently intended, the shovel turned so that the blow was inflicted by the edge, partly knocking the unfortunate man down and cutting a serious wound into the skull. Smith got up and after standing around for several minutes went to the pump, pumped some water and washed off the blood which flowed freely and then walked up to Dr. Strickler's drug store where his injuries were attended to. He then went home, where he was shortly taken with spasms. It was feared by some that his injuries might prove fatal and consequently a warrant was issued for the arrest of the boy who gave bail for his appearance to answer the charge of aggravated assault. Smith is now rapidly recovering and will probably be out in a day or two.

Juniata County. - We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

On Tuesday morning of this week David M. Barnard, son of Mr. John Barnard, of Spruce Hill township, while holding two horses which were hitched to a sled, and standing at the railroad station, the horses became frightened at the cars and ran away, throwing the boy down, the horse tramping on him and the sled running over his body, cutting several ugly gashes in his face and head and sustaining serious bodily injuries. He was taken to the office of Dr. G. M. Graham, where his wounds were dressed and his medical wants at-tended to. The wonder is that he was

On Wednesday of last week Daniel Keimer, of Spruce Hill township, met with an accident which may yet cost him his life. He was engaged in chopping wood on Mr. Imes' ridge, and while in the act of felling a tree it lodged on another tree, and in trying to dislodge it the sapling on which it was hanging gave way and fell on Mr. K. crushing him to the earth, and for five long hours he remained in this perilous situation, when he was discovered by a person who was sent to search for him, as his failing to come home at the appointed failing to come home at the appointed time excited the fears of his friends lest some accident might have befallen him. When discovered he could hardly speak, and it took five strong men to rescue him.—Port Royal Times.

Court Proceedings .- At the Adjourned Court held on Saturday the 24th inst., the following proceedings were had:

A. F. Keim, Esq., was appointed Commissioner to take testimony in the claim of Leiby's Heirs and W. H. Bosserman for damages from the Borough of Newport caused by the extension of Front Street in said borough.

In the cases of the Peoples Freight Railway vs. Wm. McClure and others Defendant's counsel having regularly subpensed the President of said railway W. B. Burr, and Wm. The motions for a new trial in the case of Thomas Reeder vs. J. W. Williamson, and Alfred Burnett, vs. D. M. Rinesmith, were argued but the Court made no decision in either case.

A California Letter.

The following letter from California written by a son of R. Magee, Esq., we think will be interesting to our readers:

written by a son of R. Magee, Esq., we think will be interesting to our readers:

Sachamento, Cal., Feb. 29th, 1877.

Dear Father: Your kind letter came duly to hand, in which you speak of the pleasant winter and fine sleighing in old Penn'a. In delightful contrast with this, let me say that here we have no winter, "This is the land of the cedar, land of the vine, where buds ever blossom and beams ever shine." There are two sensons here the 'shiny,' and the 'rainy' but roses bloom all the year, however, in greater profusion about a month from now than at any other time. Peach and pear trees are in full bloom just now. This morning after reading your letter I took a stroll in the grounds which surround the State House, and here are men at work with laws mowers, little children chasing the gay butterly among the shrubbery or plucking boquets of beautiful flowers. And I wished that you were here for one moment to enjoy the sight with me. This is the land most blessed of all on this fair earth. The Gods seem to vie with each other in seeing which can do California the most good. Midas has touched her mountains and changed them into gold. Ceres smiles on her thousand acres and millions of bushels of yellow grain pour into the world's market annually, to attest the virgin wealth and fertility of her soil. Pomana burdens her every fighree and vine with delicious fruits, whilst Flora deeks her every hill-side, valley borders and rippling streams with those emblems of purity "The hand writing of the angels upon earth." Neptune has favored her waters and the commerce of all nations whitens with its salls one of the finest harbors in the world. The sun in the morning in his coming glints with gold and silver hues her whitens with its salls one of the finest harbors in the world. The sun in the morning in his coming glints with gold and silver hues her snow ciad cliffs and pines that rear their hoary heads heavenward, beams down on her emerald valleys all the day long, and at last at night as he sinks to sleep in the vast Pacific throws back his long, level, loving, lingering rays as if to kiss her a sweet good night. A word about "John Chinaman" their New

A word about "John Chinaman" their New A word about "John Chinaman" their New Year commenced on the 12th of February and their festivities lasted one week during which time they fired off 111,000,000,000 fire crackers and bombs.

It is now nearly five years since I left home in old Perry county, and I cannot say that I have been really sick one day.

Affectionately Your Son,

John W. Magre.

Wide Awake for April, 1877.

Wide Awake for April gives three graceful contributions to Easter literature, "The Easter Festival," by J. Newton Perkins, "A Love Lesson," by Mrs. Burten with an exquisite illustration, and "A Story Retold," a poem by Miss Poulison with two dainty pictures. Miss Farman has a funny piece of verse entitled "Mamma's Spring Story," accompanied by a lovely morceau of a picture. There are lots of other interesting articles.
